BATTLESHIP LOST

Explosion on the Liberte Cost Many Lives

TOULON, France, Sept. 25.—Fire broke out early today in the ammunition hold of the battleship Liberte, counted one of the finest vessels in the French navy, and the explosion which followed wrecked the great ship and killed more than half of her crew of 793 officers and men. The dead will probably number 500.

Story of the Disaster

The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock. At first it did not appear to be serious but somehow or another it gained a quick advantage over the squad of sailors sent to extinguish it. The vessel had not been flooded on account of the apparently trifling nature of the blaze.

The force of the explosions were terrific. They shook the vessel fore and aft, each one seemingly stronger than that preceding, opening great fissures in the armor and framework of the vessel.

A Mass of Fire

The vessel immediately became a mass of fire and smoke and soon, almost demolished by the terrific detonations, sank to the bottom of Toulon harbor. At an early hour unofficial estimates of the number of dead ran as high as 500. Estimates by naval men varied widely, but there was no doubt that the loss of life was more than 300. Scores of the seamen died in their berths. A few dozen saved themselves by jumping overboard. Many of those lost leaped into the water and were drowned before the boats from the other ships in the roadstead could reach them.

Two hundred of the crew escaped death owing to the fact that they were ashore on leave. Commander Jaures, a brother of the socialist deputy, was on board.

The carnage in the explosions was worse than could ever have occurred in an actual naval engagement. The first crash came when the crew was for the most part dispersed in various sections of the vessel. They were without warning of their danger. Scores of bodies were hurled high into the air, accompanied by great fragments of framework, armor, bursting shells and the blinding, suffocating smoke of the powder.

Men Killed in Sleep

Men below, sleeping, were killed in their sleep and others awakened by the explosion started to jump overboard and were caught by the second detonation.

The crew was panic-stricken and rushed wildly about, groping through the blinding smoke in which many fell unconscious from suffocation. There were many vessels in the harbor at the time, including a number of warships which have been maneuvering here since the first of the month. The first explosion brought a quick response from the nearby men-of-war and from the shore. Dozens of boats put off and picked up survivors and floating bodies.

Three Explosions

There were three tremendous explosions in quick succession after the first reached the magazine. One hundred men saved themselves by jumping and others would have escaped but for the discipline which held them at their posts. At the first explosion the men below suddenly awakened, tumbled from their cots and rushed to the sides of the vessel where they were throwing themselves overboard when an order calling them to their stations rang out and held to their deaths those who had not already escaped.

The Liberte was anchored in the roadstead, where she had been since the review of the fleet by President Fallieres on Sept. 14, when the French national executive gazed on the most powerful fleet that France has ever assembled. Premier Caillaux and his associates in the cabinet, together with many senators and deputies, were present.

Following the review the fleet resumed the autumn maneuvers and gun practice. On Sept. 20 the armored cruiser Gloire was engaged in target work when a port engine exploded as a projectile was being inserted in the breech. One gunner was killed and 13 others were injured. Five of the latter subsequently died.

Today's disaster came with little warning, the fire being discovered about five o'clock and a signal sounded throughout the vessel summoning the crew to the quarters. Immediately the order was given to flood the hold but the rushing water failed to check the rapidly spreading flames.

Smoke poured from the warship and attracted the attention of the other ships of the squadron, which hurriedly dispatched pinnaces with men and fire apparatus to the aid of their sister ship.

Presently minor explosions began within the Liberte and many seamen flung themselves overboard.

Cries of "Save yourselves!" "Fire near magazines!" could be heard ringing across the water in the stillness of the clear morning.

Sailors Leaped Overboard
From every side sailors leaped overboard and swam frantically for safety but scarcely more than 100 had plunged into the water before the series of detonations culminated in a terrific explosion that seemed to tear out the sides of the great steel vessel, which swayed over to one side and sank swiftly.

In a moment bodies and debris were floating about in the disturbed waters that splashed around the upper works. In a wide circle around the spot where the craft had floated so proudly a few minutes before, the seamen who escaped death were struggling desperately, and small boats were picking up as many as they could reach.

As the battleship went down several of her guns discharged a requiem salute. The Liberte had a complement of 700 men. Of these 140 were away on shore leave, so that 560 men were aboard when the fire broke out. A rough estimate places the number of those who jumped overboard somewhere between 100 and 200.

The rumble of the explosion was heard throughout the city and immense crowds of people gathered at the wharves.

Held at the Rifle Range Saturday

The members of Co. K, 5th regiment, M. V. M., held an important shoot at the Dracut rifle range Saturday afternoon. The entire company was present and the shooting exercises took place under direction of Capt. James M. Greig. This was the fourth of the ten paid drills as ordered by the Massachusetts officials and proved very interesting. The militiamen camped over night at the range and they returned to town at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the best of condition although somewhat tired.

The members of Co. K orchestra are getting things in shape again and they will soon open their second season of music.

PRECINCT OFFICERS

Were Given Instructions For the State Primaries Tomorrow

Everything is in readiness for the state primaries tomorrow. The city clerk has sent special instructions to the precinct officers relative to new enrollment, sample ballots were posted at the different precincts Saturday night, the registrars of voters have done their part, and the keeper of the ballot boxes, Cornelius F. Sullivan, says that the boxes are in fine working order. Police officers have been detailed to the various precincts and at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning the boxes will be started on their way to the precincts with an officer seated on every box. The polls will open at 11 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

The direct primary law does not bring about a radical change, by any means, at least not in cities like Lowell, where the Luce law was adopted and the precinct officers who were on the job when the Luce law was in effect will have little to learn. In order, however, to clear the atmosphere so that a flying machine could be seen ten miles in the air, City Clerk Flynn has issued the following statement addressed to precinct officers:

Your attention is hereby called to the provisions of law bearing on the conduct of the primaries to be held Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1911.

New Enrollment—Chapter 550, section 13, Revised Laws, 1911.

When, in a primary, a voter seeks to pass the guard rail, he shall be asked by one of the ballot clerks, with which political party he desires to be enrolled, and the ballot clerk upon being

TRIAL OF DR. SMITH J. L. CHALIFOUX DEAD

The Government Concluded Its Case This morning Passed Away in New York

The trial of Dr. Sumner P. Smith, charged with having performed an illegal operation, which it is alleged, caused the death of Miss Katherine G. Roark, was resumed this morning at the criminal session of the superior court at East Cambridge.

Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner for Suffolk county, was the first witness called. He testified to having viewed the body of Miss Roark at the Boothby hospital shortly after eight o'clock on the night of the 13th of August and also to having performed an autopsy on the body the following morning at the morgue.

Dr. Magrath's testimony was along medical and technical lines. It being a general explanation of what he found upon his examination and autopsy on the body of the deceased.

Lawyer Harvey objected to many of the questions asked by District Attorney Higgins and during a little tiff between counsel Mr. Harvey stated that he intended to argue that Dr. David D. Scannell of the Boothby Surgical hospital caused the death of Miss Roark.

The witness, on direct and also on cross-examination, testified that death was due to peritonitis.

Dr. Magrath testified to having learned that Dr. Scannell performed an operation on Miss Roark at 8.30 o'clock on the morning of the 13th of August, and in response to a question put by Mr. Harvey stated that the delay of the operation from the time the woman entered the Boothby hospital until the following morning did not have any material difference inasmuch as her condition was so bad when she reached the hospital that there was little hope to save her life.

On re-direct examination the witness was asked: "Did the operation performed at the Boothby hospital on the morning of the 13th of August, in your opinion, cause the death or contribute to the cause of the death of Miss Roark?" Dr. Magrath's answer was in the negative.

A recess was taken at 11 o'clock and inasmuch as there were several other cases to be disposed of it was 11.30 before the case was resumed.

Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department, was recalled and testified to a statement made to him by the deceased which was not testified to on Friday.

The government rested its case at this point and lawyer William H. Wilson made his opening argument for the defendant.

The Defense Opens
Lawyer Wilson made a very able opening argument, going into the details of the case from the time the Roark girl was taken ill up to the time of her death. He explained at considerable length the treatment which Dr. Smith had administered to the deceased, also her visit to Nantasket beach and subsequently her going to the Boothby hospital in Boston. Mr. Wilson concluded his argument shortly before noon.

Dr. Edward G. Livingston of this city was the first witness for the defense. He testified that Dr. Smith had a good reputation, both as a practitioner and a citizen. On cross-examination the witness said that he never knew or heard of the defendant performing an illegal operation in 1902.

Commissioner Charles H. Hanson, of the board of police, testified to the reputation of the defendant, and said he had been a neighbor of Dr. Smith for about 20 years.

Peter F. Conaton, of the firm of Farrell & Conaton, testified in high terms of Dr. Smith, but admitted on cross-examination that he had read in the newspapers several years ago of "two doctor having been arrested."

Mary A. Roark, a sister of the deceased, was called to the stand and testified that her sister worked in various places. She worked four days a week in the Lawrence hosiers, the witness said, also did clerical work for a local druggist and physician. Witness also testified as to the physical condition of her sister and said that it grew worse instead of better as the time advanced.

The witness testified that her deceased sister visited Nantasket beach on August 10th.

On cross-examination Miss Roark testified that on the night when it is alleged that the illegal operation was performed on the deceased, she was at a local theatre. The witness never knew that Dr. Smith was attending her sister.

Miss Margaret Roark, another sister of the deceased, testified that she has been living at Nantasket since last May, but prior to that time she had lived at 254 Salem street. She and the deceased worked together in the Lawrence hosiers. The witness testified as to her sister's physical condition and said that at various periods her sister was in a weak condition and had to ride to and from work.

RETURN TO WORK

STRIKERS' DEMAND FOR HIGHER WAGES GRANTED

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Forty drivers and helpers employed by two milk companies were out on strike for two hours early today for higher wages of a uniform scale and better conditions, and after a conference with their employers agreed to return to work when their demands had been agreed to. The strike, which was endorsed by the Milk Wagon Drivers and Helpers union, was ordered to enforce the same schedule as demanded by the employees of three large companies two weeks ago, which resulted in a big strike which was won by the men after they had been out three days. At present 49 firms employing 500 men have established the conditions asked.

A rather sudden death occurred in

New York yesterday afternoon, when Joseph L. Chalifoux, one of Lowell's best known residents, passed away from an attack of acute peritonitis after only one day's illness. The deceased was on a business trip to New York and on Saturday he took suddenly ill and his family in this city were notified by telegram. Mrs. Chalifoux with her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Stevens, at once hastened to his bedside and in the evening Mr. Paul E.

deceased was a member of the board of trade, which he once served as president; also a member of the Vesper Country and Highland clubs. He was a director of the Union National bank and a trustee of the Central Savings bank, both of which institutions valued highly his business judgment. He was also a life trustee of the Textile school, and has served on various important public commissions. He was a great factor in the advancement of the French people in this city, having taken on a great deal of interest in all their movements.

In 1876 Mr. Chalifoux was married to Miss Nellie M. Gallagher, of this city. They had five children, all of whom are living: Paul E. and Harry L., now associated in the business which has been incorporated, Alice P. (Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth), now of South Bend, Ind.; Helene Ada (Mrs. Charles A. Stevens), resident of Lowell, and Elizabeth R. (Mrs. L. C. Chayin), now of South Bend. Mr. Chalifoux had but recently returned from a visit to his two daughters in Indiana.

The announcement of Mr. Chalifoux's death has been a great shock to his friends. Last week he attended a meeting of the charter committee of the board of trade rooms and made several suggestions which were adopted. He was deeply interested in every movement for the benefit of the city and felt that the new charter if adopted would give Lowell a more progressive method of doing business. A funeral notice appears elsewhere in this paper.

THE LATE J. L. CHALIFOUX

Chalifoux also started for his father's bedside. The sick man, surrounded by his family, passed away at 2.30 yesterday afternoon.

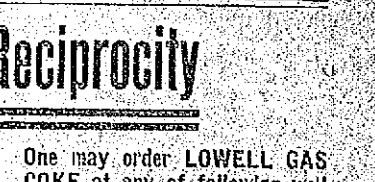

Joseph L. Chalifoux was born at St. Irenae de Mascouche, Que., Dec. 20, 1830. He received his early education in the provincial schools and later entered Masson college, Terrebonne, Que., graduating in the classical and business courses of that institution. Upon leaving school he entered the drug business for a time, but in 1855 he came to Lowell and secured employment as a clerk in a clothing store, where he devoted himself faithfully to the business and was so successful that in 1875 he was able to start in business for himself, in a modest way, with a single clerk for assistant. From that small beginning he steadily built up the present clothing business conducted under his name, employing many men. In 1859 he started a branch store in Birmingham, Ala., and the enterprise proved to be a very good proposition, and in the latter place he erected one of the finest office buildings in the south.

Mr. Chalifoux became one of the city's most substantial and widely trusted citizens. He was the owner of considerable real estate, including the new Colonial building which replaced Barrister's Hall at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets, the Chalifoux building in Central street and several buildings in the vicinity of Moody street.

Decided was a member of the board of trade, which he once served as president; also a member of the Vesper Country and Highland clubs. ## Had a Great Time at the Lawn Fete Saturday

Saturday was a big day for the Chelmsford Boys' club. The event was a lawn fete postponed from the previous week because of unfavorable weather and the extension of time but served to add to the general interest in the occasion. The weather conditions, Saturday, were ideal and the event afforded great pleasure and amusement for a host of young people, their parents and friends.

The common was the scene of activities during the afternoon. The big show opened at 3 o'clock with a selection for the finals which were won by the Pawtucketville boys. Time, one minute, pulls, shoes and stockings race, Eddie Dryden, first; potato race, won by a Lowell boy; hurdle race, Barton of Eliot Scouts, first heat; Charles Hills, Chelmsford, second heat; Louis Lovering, Chelmsford, third heat. The final heat was won by Barton with Charles Hills, second.

William Berg, first; Harry Russell, second, running broad jump, Barton of the Eliot Scouts. In the wall scaling contest a team of seven boys from the Eliot Boy Scouts gave a speed exhibition, scaling the fence in one minute and six seconds. One hundred yards dash, Lawrence Brown of Tyngsboro.

ELMER E. HARRIS

The final event of the afternoon was the pyramid formation by the members of the Chelmsford Boys' club, under the leadership of Harold Maxwell, which brought the exercises to a close at 5:30. At 6 o'clock a baked bean supper was served in the lower town hall, in charge of Miss Elizabeth Ashworth, assisted by Miss Minnie Hardy, Mrs. Victor L. Parkhurst and Mrs. E. D. Harris.

At 8 o'clock the upper hall was well filled for the musical show given by the Pawtucketville Boys' club, under the capable direction of Harold Maxwell. It was a good show. The show concluded with a grand chorus by the entire company and was followed as soon as the seats could be removed by the marching cross, an exhibition of floor work by members of the Chelmsford Boys' club, under the direction of Mr. Maxwell. Miss Ruth Emerson gave much pleasure as accompanist for the musical show and also for the general dancing following, which brought the day's program to a close.

For the sports of the afternoon Supt. D. El Martin acted as announcer and starter; Rev. Earl Alan Roadman as umpire; Rev. Charles H. Ellis as judge. The services of Scoutmaster Ribard of North Chelmsford proved very valuable in conducting the arrangements on the common.

James J. Storrow Indicted by the Federal Grand Jury

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—James J. Storrow, a heavy stockholder in the United Shoe Machinery Co., and a former director who was indicted with five other officials by the federal grand jury last week, furnished $10,000 bail in the United States circuit court today. As in the case of the three officials who were in court last week, Mr. Storrow was not asked to plead to the indictment. Mr. Storrow was represented by Charles F. Cheate and Roland Boyden and at the close of the proceedings he issued the following statements:

"It was a complete surprise to me to learn on my arrival at the steamship pier in New York on Saturday that I had been indicted by the government in the shoe machinery case. I resigned from the company nearly two years ago and for a considerable period before that had not been active in the company's affairs. I hope and believe I am as anxious as anyone to obey the law. I certainly never had the slightest intention of violating the Sherman law and so far as I know neither I nor any of the officers or directors of the company committed any violations of the law during the time I was conversant with its affairs."

THE NASHUA K. OF C.

Royally Entertained by Lowell Council Yesterday

Lowell council No. 72, Knights of Columbus, entertained the members of Nashua council at the Genoa Country club, in Tyngsboro, yesterday, and a perfect day congenial gathering and lavish hospitality combined to make the event the biggest and best affair of its kind ever held on the splendid country home of the knights. For years there has been a warm, friendly feeling between the two councils, and annually the New Hampshire men feast the Lowell boys, while the latter return the compliment with a reception here. Yesterday's event was attended by about 100 members from Nashua, while several hundred from Lowell went out on special cars to greet the boys from the Granite state. On arriving at the grounds all hands were made acquainted, the committee from Lowell council doing the honors in the reception. At 1:15 the call for dinner was announced by Trustee John Welsh, and all marched to the beautiful pine grove, an ideal spot, where was spread a great dinner.

After dinner the sports were on the base ball game coming first. It was a hotly contested game, and Nashua won only after a hard struggle. School Committee men Farrington, Billy Woods of the locals and Gaffney of the were run off and the honors were divided easily between the two cities. Among those present prominent in K. of C. circles were Past District Deputy Wm. F. Sullivan, State Deputy John Haggerty, Rev. Fr. McDonough and Mayor Barry of Nashua, Rev. Fr. Wrenn, Mayor Meehan, State Auditor Robert J. Thomas, and others. In some respects it marked the formal closing of the club after a busy season, and the capable manner in which the arrangements were handled reflects great credit on the committee headed by Grand Knight Henry J. Heaps. Other members included Deputy Grand Knight Joseph F. Bourke, Lecturer John J. Murphy; Financial Secretary Philip J. Breen and John Welch. Edward Turner, the very accommodating custodian of the club, lent valuable assistance and is due a word of praise for his work.

CUT HIS THROAT

MAN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE IN HOME IN MANCHESTER
MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 25.—Nicholas Douivas, 38 years old, a Greek living at 225 Cedar street, attempted suicide shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday morning by cutting his throat with a bread knife in the kitchen of his home.

A neighbor, Nicholas Flevnes, came to the police station and told the officers, and at the house they found Douivas lying behind a stove in the kitchen with two gashes in his throat. He was hurried to the Sacred Heart hospital in the ambulance.

Douivas, who is a mill worker, has a wife in Macedonia and a number of relatives in this city. No motive is known for the act. It is thought he will recover.

BOGROFF HANGED

Stolypin's Assassin Pays Death Penalty
KIEV, Russia, Sept. 25.—Dmitry Bogroff, the assassin of Premier Stolypin, who was condemned to death by court martial, was hanged today.

Before his execution the young man asked that he might see a rabbit, but refused this consolation when informed that the interview must be in the presence of officials.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—The presence of Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of Berkeley, California, the national women's tennis champion, and several players from the west and south made the annual women's tennis tournament at the Longwood Cricket club, which opened today, one of unusual interest. The present Longwood challenge cup for women is held by Mrs. E. L. Raymond, formerly Miss Louise Hammond of New York, who has one win in the trophy.

NATIONAL CONSERVATION CONGRESS

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25.—Plain words were used by the speakers at the opening session of the third national conservation congress here today in pointing out that the continuation of the present day farming methods will result calamitously for the country. Not only a change in treatment of the soil but of the country people as well was urged. Only by bettering social conditions on the farm, it was declared, could young persons be kept there. About 2500 delegates attended the opening session.

CHIEF MARSHALL DROWNED

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 25.—Returning to this harbor today after a day's cruise the sloop Edith brought the news of the accidental drowning yesterday of William Marshall, chief of the fire department of Bridgewater. Marshall, with a party of friends, hired the boat yesterday for a fishing trip. When about three miles off shore Marshall lost his balance and fell overboard. His body has not been recovered.

GIRL WAS KIDNAPPED

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The West Side police today are searching for Irene Westly, a comely 17-year-old girl, who was kidnapped by four unidentified men early today as she was returning home with James Kerns, an 18-year-old neighbor. Kerns was beaten into insensibility with a beer bottle wielded by one of the assailants and is lying in the New York hospital with a fractured skull.

Plans to Discharge a Number of Its Employees

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—A special train bearing a representative of every department of the Boston and Maine railroad left the North station this forenoon to visit every station along the line of the entire system for the purpose of blazing the way for the official ax which is soon to follow, marking the beginning of the greatest retrenchment ever undertaken on this or any other railroad in recent years. The reason for this wholesale retrenchment, in which hundreds of faithful employees will lose their positions, is explained in the claim that during one of the summer months the passenger receipts have fallen off from $17,000 to $4000 a day, and in less than six days during the entire month were the receipts equal to those of the corresponding days of the previous year. It is impossible to state as early as this the full extent of the retrench-charge of the entire terminal. This is an important branch of the service, as the trainmasters are required to get trains out of the station on time, and have charge of making up the extra crews for outgoing passenger trains, the crews being assigned to take out the trains oftentimes arriving on inward trains too late to do so.

MAN HELD IN $10,000

Charged With Attack on His Wife

BANGOR, Sept. 25.—After being at liberty only a few weeks after completing a term of three years in the state prison, Joseph Stevens, a Millinocket Italian, is behind the bars again, this time in the Bangor jail to remain until the February term of court unless he secures $10,000 bail.

Stevens was brought here Saturday night by Millinocket officers after a hearing in the Millinocket municipal court on the charge of assault with intent to kill his wife.

According to the testimony, Stevens and his wife had a quarrel, in which Mrs. Stevens' mother took part. Stevens, it was alleged, locked his wife and her mother in a room with himself and said that he was going to kill them. Mrs. Stevens, however, snatched a revolver from his hand and threw it out of the window. Then Stevens, she says, attacked her, seizing her by the throat, and they were struggling when Fred Peluso heard her screams and, breaking down the door, separated them. Other Italians came to the rescue and Stevens was overpowered and locked up.

Nearly four years ago Stevens figured in a sensational case in which Angus Grant, a Bangor man, was shot and killed. Stevens fled to Canada, but was found, lured to the American side and arrested. He pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to three years in the state prison.

NUMBER OF OFFENDERS

Appeared in the Police Court This Morning

The dock in police court this morning held a number of Sunday drunks, women offenders and old time offenders, and in consequence there were many five and six dollar fines, and quite a few were sent away for a long period of time either to the state farm at Bridgewater or the Lowell jail. Judge Hadley expressed surprise at the number of women drunks as sentenced in the court dock, and as most of them had been there before they were given direct sentences.

Sunday drunks were the first upon the list and they each were given the customary five dollar fine, which most of them paid, and were released. Among the number were John Harris, Hugh Riley, David W. Adel and James Santos.

Crap Shooters
Theodore Maklarkus and Antonio Santos together with several others were more than tucking away the silver yesterday afternoon in an alleyway near the North common, and were shouting with glee. "Come seven, come eleven," in a great game of crap shooting when Patrolman John Ganley put in an appearance, and promptly nabbed them. This morning in court they were assessed $5 each which they promptly paid.

Annie McCabe was before the court for the third time this year, and she will rest for the next three months at the state farm.

Jeremiah Mahoney was charged with drunkenness, and upon his solemn promise to do better he was placed on probation.

Mary Brennan, who until yesterday had been enjoying a few days of probationary respite from confinement at East Cambridge, was before the court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. She pleaded hard to be given another chance, and with tears in her eyes produced documentary proof that her brother would provide her with a good home in Somerville if she was allowed to go upon probation.

The police will look into the case. Frank J. Thorpe was fined $5 and given one month in which to pay the same, during which time he will be on probation. Mary F. Trainer was sentenced to the state farm on the charge of drunkenness. John P. Moran was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory and for the next year he will be in the care of the probation officer.

James Gallagher pleaded not guilty to a fourth offence of drunkenness, but after Patrolmen Winters and Clarke testified he was adjudged guilty and sentenced to five months in the Lowell jail. He appeared and was held in $200 for the superior court.

Alphonse Bellmire was sentenced to the state farm, and his wife, Olive, was given two months in jail for being drunk, while their companion, Calliana Touranger, was sentenced to four days in jail. There were five $2 fines and 11 were released by the probation officer.

A MONSTER PARADE

Great Demonstration to Be Held in Boston On Columbus Day

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—All signs point to the fact that Boston will see a greater, more impressive demonstration on Thursday, Oct. 12, in honor of the discovery of America, than on Columbus day of last year.

Committees of the various societies that will be represented have been hard at work on the multiplicity of details for several weeks and will keep up their enthusiastic activity until the last moment.

Because of the great number of floats and uniform features the parade promises to be the most picturesque and spectacular ever seen in Boston and hundreds of thousands will witness it.

There is early indication of a more general intention to decorate dwellings, public buildings and places of business than last year.

Last Year's Route Selected

Perhaps the most important development of the past few days is the decision of Lieut. Col. John H. Dunn, chief marshal, that the route of the parade would be the same as last year. This was determined upon in view of the fact that the grand parade of last year moved with such precision and regularity.

By adopting the same route, Lieut. Col. Dunn will be enabled to follow out the general plan of organization as existed last year. Those who participated in the event a year ago will be aided by the knowledge gained at that time. The route of the parade will therefore be as follows:

Start at corner of Beacon and Hereford streets, along Beacon street to Tremont street, Tremont street to Court street, Court street to Washington street, Washington street to Temple place, Temple place to Tremont street, Tremont street to Boylston street, Boylston street to Park square, where the column will be reviewed by the chief marshal and staff and then disbanded.

Holy Name Societies

The Holy Name societies of the diocese propose to make a magnificent showing. They have been awaiting the return of the Most Reverend Archbishop to take action. In this connection the following letter from Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, diocesan director of the Holy Name society is self-explanatory.

Rev. and dear Father: His Grace, the Most Reverend Archbishop, has ordered the Holy Name society to take part in the Columbus day parade.

His wish is all that is necessary to secure the hearty co-operation of the spiritual directors of the diocese. We all recall with justifiable pride the first Holy Name parade. It was a truly marvelous demonstration of the faith of our Catholic men. Last year, on Columbus day, the Holy Name men made a splendid appearance and won the admiration of all who witnessed the parade. This year everyone should strive, even though the time is very brief, to equal and, if possible, surpass the excellent record which the Holy Name society has established. You are, therefore, directed to call to the attention of the spiritual directors in your division, and make the necessary arrangements.

Line of Formation

The line of formation will be exactly the same as last year, twenty-four men in each company with a captain and two sergeants. The men will wear black clothes, black derby hat, white gloves, Holy Name button, and the official Columbus Day badge.

The spiritual directors must march at the head of their divisions, and will wear frock coat, tall hat and gray gloves.

As the head of your division, you will arrange the order of the societies in the division. Together with the other spiritual directors you are requested to select a marshal for your division and an aid from such society for his staff. There will be ten divisions. Each division should have an aid and the chief marshal's staff. He is to be selected at the spiritual directors' meeting, and his name and address forwarded to me immediately.

Kindly send me a detailed report of the meeting including the names of the directors present and the number of men expected from each society, so that I may, in turn, give a report to his grace. Further information regarding the hour and your place of formation will be sent you by Lieut. Col. Dunn, Chief Marshal of the parade.

The Ten Divisions

The divisions will be arranged as follows:

Division 1, Boston, Rev. Peter J. Mc-

Donaghue.

Division 2, South Boston, Rt. Rev. George J. Patterson, P. A.

Division 3, Jamaica Plain, Rev. John A. Sheridan.

Division 4, East Boston, Rev. Thomas P. McGinn.

Division 5, Charlestown, Rev. Michael P. Crowley.

Division 6, Dorchester, Rev. Michael J. Cuddihy.

Division 7, Newton, Rev. James F. Kelley.

Division 8, Cambridge, John J. Ryan.

Division 9, Lynn, Rev. Timothy A. Curtin.

Division 10, Melrose, Rev. J. A. Brown.

Joseph A. Sheehan, president of the Holy Name society of the cathedral, will be chief marshal of the Holy Name Grand Division.

Chinese Catholics

The Chinese Catholics, who in last year's parade rode in tally-hos, have signified their intention of marching this year. There are quite a number of Chinese Catholics in the city, and they want to take full part. In order to do this they have voted to walk, as all the others. The Chinese committee has notified the executive committee to place them in the line, and have stated that they will be accompanied by their own band.

With the arrival home of the Most Reverend Archbishop a new impetus has been added to the celebration. Both the committee and the society organizers have been awaiting his return, so that they might confer with him and thus bring into co-operation all the best ideas of everyone interested in the celebration.

MERRIMACK CO. Is Buying Back Some of Its Tenement Property

Conditions in the textile business are looking somewhat brighter in Lowell, and the curtailment in production has given manufacturers a good opportunity to make many needed improvements in their plants. Mention has been made in these columns from time to time of all the new buildings being constructed by the different corporations and also of proposed new buildings.

The Merrimack company, like the Massachusetts, is going to turn its tenement property into mill buildings. The brick buildings in Colburn street from number 135 to 142, inclusive, will be converted into a storage house for cotton. The windows will be bricked up and other necessary alterations will be made. The Merrimack has bought back considerable land that it sold to Salmann Sirk a few years ago. The company, in fact, has bought back several pieces of land that it sold, and it looks as if greater extensions along the building line than have been reported are anticipated.

The Hamilton Manufacturing company has rearranged nearly all its machinery in a way which cuts down greatly the cost of production, and now has already been started, building the first portion of a large new mill. Detailed information concerning the size and location of this new building has already appeared in The Sun.

Tremont & Suffolk
The Tremont & Suffolk company has recently installed much new equipment and is driving the machinery in those mills by electric motors. Agent Connel has personally supervised the work of installing the big electric plant and it has taken a long time. It is now complete, however, and is giving good satisfaction.

Coming to Lowell

Roger W. Davis, who has for several years been assistant manager of the Lowell Machine shop's southern office at Atlanta, Ga., will move to this city October 1, to become agent of the Lowell Machine company, and sales manager of the Lowell Machine shop. The southern office of the big shop was discontinued September 1.

IN THE CHURCHES

Men and Religion Movement Discussed

IN MANY OF THE PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Question Propounded by Rev. Dr. Bonner—Wants to Know Why Men Don't Go to Church—Rally Day at Calvary and First Baptist Churches

"Men and Religion Movement" was discussed in a number of the local Protestant churches, yesterday. At the Highland M. E. church Rev. Arthur Bonner, Ph. D., dealt with the question in great detail.

He had sent out a series of questions to men dealing with church attendance by men. The questions were as follows:

In your judgment is the relatively small percentage of men found in the average church service the result of

1—A weak ministry? or

2—A lack of strong character, or deep piety in the average attendant?

3—Strange or out-worn doctrines or

4—An increase of knowledge and a corresponding shrinking from religion

as if it were to be classed with the vanishing superstitions? or

5—Objectionable modes of worship and unworthy methods in what may be called church work? or

6—A tendency of the time not easily explained?

If none of the above answers seems satisfactory, what other reason would you give as the source of the trouble?

"There is no novelty in this question and answer method, except in the character of these particular questions," said

Dr. Bonner.

"The fact that the problem is a complex and difficult one should not cause us to avoid it. We try to think through reciprocity, the temperance question, impure politics or direct primaries.

Then why not this?

"The six questions sent to about 150 men of various occupations or professions in the city did not, of course, exhaust the list of factors. They suggest some of the serious reasons given for absenteeism on the part of men.

More than one-third did not reply.

Some phoned me the reason why;

some personally excused themselves.

"Of the answers as a whole it may be said that they are characterized by a most commendable earnestness, seriousness befitting the subject. The rampant carelessness sometimes affected by a certain type of man is not to be found. There seems to be either an honest attempt to think at or through the problem or to manifest a becoming modesty in the presence of the difficulties it presents.

"There are, at least, two other implications in the nature of the replies which must be noted. First, the class of men who would like to see conditions bettered is not as small as we may have supposed and, second, the mental attitude of many men who do not regularly attend church worship is hostile neither to a vital religious life nor to some organized form of Christianity."

Calvary Baptist Church

Rally day services were held at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday and there was a large attendance.

At the morning service the pastor spoke on "Men and Religion." The Sunday school roll-call showed an attendance of 113.

Frederick Lawton, secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, urged the necessity of enthusiasm in Sunday school work. He also added a word to the men urging them to do their duty next Tuesday and vote for the men who were manly enough and had the courage to vote

First Baptist Church

The rally day service at the First Baptist church was held yesterday morning at 10.30 o'clock. The roll-call of the Sunday school classes showed an attendance of 735. There was an interesting address by Fred W. Lawton of the Anti-Saloon league.

In the evening the first mass meeting in opening the "Men and Religion" campaign was held under the auspices of "The Men of the Round Table." The object of the movement "to develop the resources of the churches as represented by the men" was explained and developed by George W. Mahaffy, general secretary of the Boston Y. M. C. A. Mr. Keirstead of St. John, N. B., spoke very earnestly on the subject, "Does the average man need Jesus Christ?"

Friends of Prof. Harrington Lose Hope

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The hopes of the relatives of Prof. Mark W. Harrington, once head of the weather bureau and a college professor and astronomer of note, that he would recover his mind have been dashed by his relapse into his old habit of forgetfulness of his own personality.

Prof. Harrington disappeared from his home in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in 1899, and was found wandering, dazed in Trenton, N. J., in 1907. He was sent to the New Jersey state hospital for the insane at Morris Plains, where he was found by his wife in 1908.

It was thought by Dr. Britton, D. Evans, medical director of the hospital, last June that Harrington stood some chance of emerging from his state of "lost personality," as at that time he responded to the name "Harrington" when it was called by the doctors and attendants.

Prof. Harrington had insisted that his name was John Doe, that name being given him when he was entered.

It was stated yesterday at the Morris Plains institution that Harrington now denies that his name is Harrington, and when they ask him his name is John Doe he merely shrugs his shoulders and replies, "That's what you say." His wife has not visited him since last June, when he looked at her and said, "I was never married; you are an impostor."

All of the faculties of the former director of the observatory at Peking, China, the former professor in Washington and Michigan university are not in abeyance. Harrington discovered the other day that he could read Latin and that, in fact, all of the classics were very familiar to him, just as he is able to know all of the stars he sees at night from his bedroom window. So he has asked for the classics in Latin and reads constantly Horace, Virgil, Cicero, Pliny and all others that the hospital officials are able to procure for him.

The primaries tomorrow will afford the first opportunity to nominate candidates for state offices by popular vote. For that reason they should be largely attended. The voters will also have the privilege of changing their parties at these primaries. It will be a good opportunity for republicans to come over to the democratic party. In case the primaries be lightly attended, it is likely that an effort will be made to repeal the law next year.

Perhaps the auto driver who picks up the man he has injured and carrying him to the front of a hospital dumps the insensate form on the sidewalk and drives off, is not quite so bad as if he had not bothered with the injured man; but he is a coward just the same and a menace to the traveling public. Such men are not fit to be in charge of autos on the public highways and they should be weeded out as soon as discovered by the police. As a rule they are the men who go joy riding and imbibe too freely at their various stopping places.

MUNICIPAL CONCRETING PLANT

The city should have a concreting plant of its own for the repair of streets and sidewalks. Many of our streets, notably the asphalted streets, show a number of holes that are really dangerous. The same is true of other streets and of sidewalks. The prompt repair of such streets would save the city many suits for damages brought by people who sustain injury as a result of the broken surface. In order to have the work done promptly it is necessary to have a concreting plant and a gang of men well trained in the business.

AFTER THE LYNCHERS

Considerable interest centers in the indictment of four men in connection with the brutal lynching of a negro at Coatesville, Pa. Two of these are charged with being members of the lynching mob and the two others, who are policemen, are charged with involuntary manslaughter in not having exerted themselves as they should to prevent the lynching. It is an undisputed fact that police officers do not as a rule offer any stern resistance to the mobs determined on taking prisoners from southern jails. If the police used their revolvers on the mob, the latter would not be so bold or so defiant.

HOW THE CHARTER IS MISREPRESENTED

There is no phase of municipal government more strange than that in which the people raise their hands in horror against a proposition to establish a better form of government, one that will be more effective and at the same time less expensive to the taxpayers than that which is at present in force.

We have at the present time in Lowell an example of this very situation. We find the people who have suffered for years from an antiquated charter, out railing against the proposed new charter. This is a charter that revives the democratic principle of the town meeting in which all the voters stand upon an equality and in which the responsibility is centered in a small number of men. Thomas Jefferson declared that this form of government was the wisest ever devised by the wit of man for the perfect exercise of self government and for its preservation.

But what do some of the voters of Lowell say of this form of government which is embodied in the so-called commission charter. Here are a few samples:

"Oh! It is a scheme put forward by the high-brows to capture the offices."

"It is a charter gotten up by a clique of republicans."

"It would give three men the power to plunge the city in debt."

"It would give five men the power to build up a political machine by which they could keep themselves in power indefinitely."

"It would pay men a good salary for doing that which the city officials under the old charter have been doing free of charge."

"It is a charter favoring the 'interests' that are behind, and it is not intended for the benefit of the people."

Now all this is the sheerest humbug, and these absurd statements are circulated largely by a number of candidates who are seeking office under the present charter, and are, therefore, interested in retaining the old charter.

We would candidly advise the voters of this city to use their intelligence on matters of this kind and not to accept the statements of candidates who have a selfish reason for keeping the old charter. There is no particular class, party or clique behind the new charter and as for the press we believe its motive in supporting the new charter is entirely disinterested. The average voter can easily decide between the counsel of men interested in retaining the old charter and that given by newspapers having no interest whatever in securing a new charter except so far as they are desirous of promoting the cause of good government in this city.

The voters need not be afraid of the power placed in the hands of the municipal board under the new charter because the voters are given ample power to block any measure that may be considered dangerous, or to remove any officer who fails to do his duty.

The great responsibility will not rest in the hands of one man, but in a body of five men, each of whom must bear his share. The mayor will have no veto upon the acts of the municipal board, and hence the business of the city will go on without interruption from deadlocks such as we have experienced under the old charter.

We feel, therefore, that any voter who takes a calm view of this charter question will find no difficulty in arriving at the decision that the new charter is for the best interests of all concerned, and that it will overcome most of the delays and the extravagance that result not from graft, not from dishonesty at city hall, but from a defective system that is authorized by the charter; a system which scatters responsibility so vaguely that when anything goes wrong it is very hard to tell who is to blame. All this will be changed under the new charter. The city will get more for its money, and the departments will work in greater harmony than ever before.

We would advise the voters of Lowell, especially the democrats, not to allow any wily politician to throw dust in their eyes in regard to this charter, which is the Des Moines charter modified in some minor details, as that charter is modified in every other city in which has been adopted.

The new medical compound Cadum has proved a blessing to thousands who have suffered for years from distressing, stubborn and disfiguring skin diseases. The remarkable work of healing that Cadum has accomplished accounts for its great sale. Wherever the skin is diseased, irritated or affected, Cadum is a safe remedy to use. ### EDITORIAL COMMENT

AN Exchange says: The government is trying to restore competition by requiring the trusts to dissolve themselves into organic constituent bodies. In theory the government ought to succeed, but in actual practice competition is restored by such methods? If a trust is dissolved only to be split into 10, 20 or 50 organizations in which the stockholders are identical or in which the control is substantially identical, it is difficult to see how the public will be benefited.

If John Jones has a large grocery store, and in response to public sentiment closes the large store and opens 25 smaller ones, charging much the same prices that he did in the large store except that he increases them slightly to meet the extra expense caused by the additional cost to him of paying rent in 25 different places and having 25 managers whose he had but two or three, it is hard to see how the purchasing public is benefited in the slightest. Instead it is hurt. John Jones is competing against himself, and while his profits may be larger in this store than that, at the end of the year he has made just as much as he would in the large store, and of course he has made it on profits paid by the public.

More dissolution of a trust by the government will mean little.

FOSS WOULD HAVE SAVED CAUSE

Worcester Post: It is well for us of Massachusetts to remember today that at the time Eugene N. Foss was urging reciprocity with Canada and Henry Cabot Lodge was reading him out of the republican party for so urging. It seems easy to remember today, for practically everybody in Canada then wanted and sought it. But now as Fred J. Macleod, chairman of our railroad commission, and himself a former Prince Edward Islander well says, it is "too late," wholly because of our own folly. And all that is left for us, in every shame that we preferred the Lodge to the Foss kind of statesmanship is to remember that Foss showed us the right way long before it was too late.

The proposal was accepted and the young pilot told Atwood to keep straight ahead, just as he had been flying.

YET TO BE EVOLVED

Hartford Times (Dem.)—The road-makers who are inspecting this part of the country are being told by experts that a perfect highway has not been evolved and never will be. All agreed that it is the automobile which makes the trouble, but apparently none of them thought very seriously of limiting the speed of machines even during the critical early days of a road before it is thoroughly settled. It is interesting to note that at least one state commissioner said after examining the Connecticut roads that he still thought those of Massachusetts average higher than those of any other state. He is the New Hampshire commissioner, and had to go home earlier than some of the others because of pressure of work for his department in the White mountain region.

MR. TAFT'S SEVERE TEST

New York Mail: Mr. Taft knows that our American politics are merciless. He knows that the people have no compassion on a losing man. If the president is now politically on the down grade, he runs the risk of returning from his long journey farther down it than when he started. We shall see what the outcome will be. On many things the president must declare himself. He must be definite, concrete, personal, practical, constructive, reassuring. He must prove himself indeed the advance agent of prosperity. He must carry health and strength for the people's business in his two hands.

MILEAGE BOOKS

Providence Journal: One advantage of the alliance between the New Haven and the Boston & Albany is the interchange of mileage books. This convenience doubtless will be appreciated by many who have been put to the trouble and expense of buying two kinds of tickets. But why should New Haven mileage not be good on the Boston & Maine and the Maine Central? The statement in a Boston paper that there is to be no interchange between the northern and southern systems of the New Haven is accompanied by no explanation of the preference given to the Boston & Albany. A New Haven mileage book should be valid on all the steam roads controlled by the Connecticut corporation. While all the money goes into one treasury, travelers are entitled to the manifest advantages of books good on the entire system regardless of the divisions created for facilitating operation, or for maintaining separate names suggestive of independence to the uninitiated.

ELSIE AYKROYD

Just Missed Making a Record Performance

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Elsie Aykroyd, a 17-year-old schoolgirl from Boston, just missed eclipsing all performers of swimmers in local waters yesterday, when she failed by a scant half-mile to finish the 21-mile swim from East 26th street to Steeplechase pier, Coney Island, which Rose Pitonoff, the Dorchester water sprite, succeeded in negotiating on Aug. 21. When informed of her defeat, the strong flood tide made Miss Aykroyd quit the water at Herring's bathing beach at 4.10 p. m. she was a full hour ahead of Miss Pitonoff's time for that distance. Her coachers' lack of knowledge of the course and a delay of a half hour in making the start were mostly responsible for the plucky Boston girl's failure to gain the laurels she sought.

Miss Aykroyd plunged from the department of charity pier at 10.12. She came down the river at first time. She was off the battery at 11.52 and in the Narrows at 2.11.

At Norton's Point, Arthur Aykroyd, the girl's brother, and Alois Androle jumped into the water and swam beside her. They piloted her safely around the point but on a course that brought her more than a half mile off shore as she passed Sea Gate.

It was there, when the tide was changing from the ebb, which had aided the girl on almost the entire trip, to a strong flood. The choppy sea in the bay had inflated her eyes greatly but she was still striking out vigorously when the changing tide weakened her.

On the mile between Norton's Point and the place at which she stopped, Miss Aykroyd swam diagonally, gradually heading for the shore. At Herring's beach she felt the sandy bottom beneath her and walked ashore. Later she boarded a launch and went to Steeplechase pier.

WOMEN WERE HELD UP

Boy is Arrested as a Bandit

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 25.—Armed with a 32-calibre revolver and carrying in his pocket a black silk handkerchief, which, it is alleged, he had used as a mask, Hugh Keefe of Summer street, 17 years old, was arrested Saturday night after the police say, he had attempted several robberies earlier in the evening, and at the point a man had obtained $3.30 from Miss Elsa Owen of Crockett street.

Beside the Owen residence, the places, it is alleged, Keefe attempted to burglarize were those of Carleton O. Wilson of 18 East Central street, Clarence A. Brown of 31 Morse place, and G. H. Charnand of 173 Grove street.

At the last place the house was ransacked and a suitcase containing several articles stolen. At the Wilson and Brown houses the would-be burglar was frightened away by the screams of the women.

Keefe was out on parole from the Vergennes industrial school, to which he was sentenced several years ago for the remainder of his minority on a charge of attempting to wreck a train between Shattsbury and South Shattsbury.

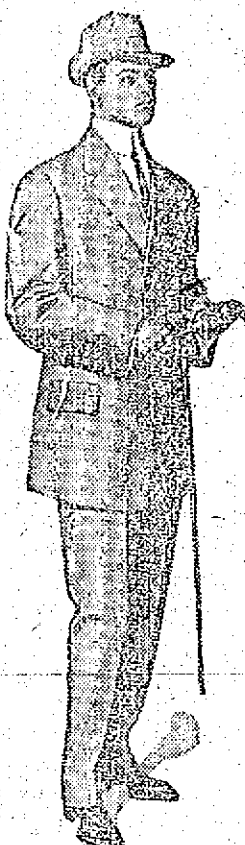

At the time of his arrest he denied all knowledge of the burglaries, but later broke down and acknowledged his guilt, the police say, besides admitting it was he who entered the J. & J. Steward factory on Park street Friday evening and the residence of S. C. Dorsey of 62 Roberts avenue during the carnival.

Keefe was found at his home on Summer street and arrested by Officer Timothy Dwyer and Special Officer James Pitonello. Chief of Police T. C. Elworth had received numerous telephone calls concerning the robberies, and at once began the search for Keefe.

The youngster seems to have saved his mind with 5-cent novel hero exploits.

Four Persons Perished in Incendiary Fire in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Four persons were smothered to death early this morning in a fire which is believed to be incendiary. Two small buildings at 1,135 South Sangamon street were destroyed. The dead are Harry Egal-

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A theatrical attraction classified as a "musical comedy" is billed to appear at the Opera House Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29-30. It is entitled "The Newweds and Their Baby." This style of entertainment is one that the wise acres of the amusement field have been consigning to oblivion for several years. It is true that a good many of them have passed into the discard, but when one is presented that embraces a pleasant blending of pretty faces, pretty music, rich costumes and scenery, backed up by a strong company of comedians and a play that is full of novel and really funny situations, it is pretty sure to succeed. The foregoing is a just summary of "The Newweds and Their Baby." It has been a success from the start because it is just what the public needs. And as for big business, "The Newweds" sets the mark for them all. It is rare indeed that a "light" house is played to. It is by no means uncommon that every seat in the house is sold 24 hours before the company arrives. While the public is offered a great quantity from which to select its amusements, it has found that quality is best, and "The Newweds and Their Baby" with Lovey, Dovey and Snookums, the nurse, the doctor, the professor, the eccentric German waiter, the big black bear, the young lovers, and his beauty chorus, easily lead the van. It is not likely that our theatregoers will miss this one.—Adv.

THE NEST EGG

Zelda Sears, the clever comedienne and delineator of character roles, will offer a novelty to our theatregoers in "The Nest Egg," a play written to suit her peculiar temperament and odd style, by Anna Caldwell, who, as a writer of comic verses and magazine stories has achieved some reputation in the literary world. Miss Caldwell was also the co-author of "The Top of the World," which had a season's run in New York city and afterwards had quite a successful engagement in Chicago, so that she is not an unknown quantity to theatregoers.

It is certain that Miss Caldwell has created a comedy on new lines and with absolute novelty in theme and story in "The Nest Egg" and in these days of reshaped dramatic plays and time-worn situations and complications, it is refreshing to be able to state this fact.

"The Nest Egg" will receive its first presentation in this city tonight at the Opera House, where it comes direct from its original cast and production from its prosperous run in New York city, where it had been playing at the Bijou theatre for several months and for five weeks at the Chicago Opera

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The same policy of the past is to be the policy of the present and future at the Merrimack Square theatre. None but the best of vaudeville amusement and the highest type of photo-plays have combined in bringing a clientele to this playhouse that compares with the very best in the city, and in an effort to retain such patronage, as well as to show some appreciation of the very generous way in which the theatregoing public of Lowell has taken to this form of entertainment, the management will spare no expense or effort in bringing to the city the choicest and cleanest of acts.

As a leader for the week, there will be the Frasier Troupe, a quintet of polished actors and actresses in a highly entertaining series of Scotch and Irish songs, dances and bag piping. There may be many offerings after the style which the Frasier Troupe presents but none quite so good. The fact that its members have been featured in many of the larger theatres of the east and have bookings which extend through the entire winter season should be sufficiently assuring of the superior quality of their act. Don't miss them.

"The Open Gate," one of the most interesting of Haddon Chambers' one-act plays will be the weekly presentation by our stock company. This play is without doubt a real leader for it has been out on before the public by some of the best known entertainers of the country, including Miss Phelps, Mr. Rues and Miss Beatrice Saville, the latter a recent addition to the company, should have many new admirers in this place for it gives each and everyone an opportunity to display his or her talent to advantage. Mr. Weston is said to be especially clever in the character in which he appears.

The stage effects of the play are in keeping with the high standard of the production.

The other contributors for the week are the Dick Thompson company in a bright little Irish singing comedy sketch entitled "Erin Go Bragh," and The Shillings are among the most expert marksmen in the world. Their work includes several new and original songs with the rifle. Miss Anna Mahon will again be the soloist for the week, and the photo-plays are all selected with a view of meeting with the entire approval of the patrons. The box office telephone number is 2553. Call up and have your name placed on the subscription list. It costs nothing.—Adv.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

If you feel as though there's a good, hearty laugh in your system and you believe that you would feel much better were it dispensed, then join your self to one of this week's offerings of "Naughty Rebecca," the funniest farce ever written, which the Donald Mack stock company will produce, commencing with this afternoon's matinee. Hagerman, a dramatist of repute, dramatized the story of "Naughty Rebecca," furnished him by Soulelet, the popular French humorist, and the finished dramatist used the material with admirable skill. The result is one of the funniest comedies ever given to the stage. The production of this comedy necessitated a large expense, which very few theatres being conducted at popular prices would care to assume. However, Donald Mack, the stage director, wishes to show the patrons of the theatre that nothing but the best of comedies of the highest type will be produced, notwithstanding the expense. The comedy is said to be a continually of laughter during its three acts.

Many screamingly funny complications and situations come out of the "first night act," which an old fellow who has an unblemished record for being a "home stayer," takes in the absence of his wife, who is called to attend a sister of hers who is ill. In the satisfying of his longing to mingle with the throng on "The Great White Way," he goes to Burns, a well known cat, patronized by actresses. While there he forms the acquaintance of a popular vaudeville star, who gives him the time of his life. The following morning comes the explanation to "Wife," regarding his actions and his telling of the various happenings of the previous night are said to be seeming of unusual interest. Mr. Mack will play the part of the "old fellow," and promises to give every chance for a laugh given him in his part, and then some. Miss Horton, Mr. Fellows and Mr. William C. Walsh, a local boy, will take prominent parts in the comedy.

Tickets for the performances of the week may be ordered in advance by telephone 511.—Adv.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

"If the people with muscular ailments, instead of taking medicine, would devote a little time each day to electrical treatment, there would be less pain in this world and a noticeable decrease in the mortality." So says Dr. Carl Herman, the electrical wizard, who will be the headline feature of the all star bill at this theatre this week. Dr. Herman is not a man who took up the study of the healing properties of electricity for the purpose of earning his livelihood, but has spent the greater part of his life in acquiring the knowledge of electricity which he has. Although he spent several years in the study of medicine his advancement in the study of this element has been rapid. All the instruments used by him in his act were manufactured under his personal attention and are said to be the most complete apparatus for electrical treatment ever devised. For the purpose of demonstrating fully what might be done with electricity, Dr. Herman will work on subjects taken from the audience. The doctor is also a capable wit, and his sayings are bound to keep his listeners convulsed with laughter. Others on this bill, which embodies comedy, music, dramatic and sensational features, are: Harlan Knight and company, in his act comedy, "The Chalk Line" in which there are amusing as well as sad moments; John Neff, the eccentric musician and Carrie Star in Mr. Neff's latest farce, entitled "The Brainstorm Musicians" and "The Telephone Girl." Mr. and Mrs. Allison, in their comical skit, "Minnie from Minnesota" which is a derivation from the comedy, "What Happened to Jones" which the two starred in for several seasons; Harry Fantele and Viola Valtorio, the twin which never fail to please with songs, dances and stories; Emma, Broder's clever telephonic artists and Roger and Lester, gymnastic marvels. The bill will close with several reels of daylight pictures of the latest subjects produced by the leading film makers of this and foreign countries.

Tickets for this week's performances are now on sale and may be ordered in advance by telephone 25.—Adv.

BURNED TO DEATH

Body of Blind Man Found in Ruins

ANTRIM, N. H., Sept. 25.—John A. Butterfield, better known as Bert Butterfield, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the farm buildings of his father, John C. Butterfield, at Clinton village, on Gregg Lake road, Saturday night. The fire caused a property loss of about $3500, partially covered by insurance.

The younger Butterfield, who was about 46 years old, was almost totally blind and, it is said, mentally unbalanced. His body was found in the ruins of the barn.

It was afterward found that previous to the discovery of the fire he had taken from the house a sum of money and a trunk containing his clothes and valuable papers.

The fire was discovered by neighbors, who telephoned to Antrim village, two miles away, for assistance. The Antrim department responded and managed to save a portion of the house, though hampered by lack of water.

Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield were awakened in time to save their household belongings. A horse and other animals 15 tons of hay and farming implements were burned, however.

INSTANTLY KILLED

Lowell Man Struck by Freight Train

FITCHBURG, Sept. 25.—The body of John Murphy of South Ashburnham, aged 25, was found on the tracks of the B. & M. railroad at West Fitchburg yesterday. Murphy was struck by a fast freight early yesterday and probably instantly killed.

The body was identified yesterday afternoon by Constable Elmer Russell of Ashburnham, who came here at the request of the police to view the body. The constable stated that Murphy had made his home in that place for the past five years and was employed as a farmhand.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Rose Reading, of 63 Adams street, Lowell.

JOHN J. MAHONEY
Well Known Billerica Man is Dead

John J. Mahoney, aged 39 years, a life long resident of Billerica, died early yesterday morning at his late home in Talbot avenue, North Billerica. He is survived by a wife, two brothers, Patrick H. and Timothy J., and three sisters, Misses Nellie and Annie of North Billerica and Mrs. Mary Shipsey of Boston.

John J. Mahoney was one of the most honorable and straightforward young men ever brought up in the town of Billerica. He lived there practically all his life and was known and admired by all who had occasion to come in contact with him whether it was in a business or a social way. He served four years as a member of the board of selectmen, and he filled the office with honor and credit and to the satisfaction of his constituents. In March, 1910, he retired and it can be said that he had more friends when he left office than when he first became identified with town affairs.

Mr. Mahoney was one of the first members of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica, of which he served in every office finishing in the president's chair.

The deceased had been ill for the past two weeks, but his death came very unexpectedly and it will be keenly felt by all of his friends as well as by the residents of Billerica.

TOMORROW'S BATTLE

A Heavy Vote is Expected at the State Primaries

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—As candidates for offices all the way from governor to ward and town committee men twelve less than ten thousand of the six hundred thousand male voters in Massachusetts were more or less on the anxious seat today over the outcome of the primaries that will be held throughout the state tomorrow. Perhaps a hundred of these candidates have strenuous fights on their hands and spent the last day in strengthening their positions in the minds of the voters. This applied more especially to three republican leaders who are aspirants for the head of the ticket at the November election. Lieut. Governor of Lowell, Frothingham of Boston, Speaker Joseph Walker and Representative Norman H. White, both of Brooklyn. All three have been actively on the stump for nearly six weeks. Three democratic candidates for lieutenant governor, auditor and treasurer respectively, David I. Walsh, Charles Stroecker and Augustus L. Thorndike, started on a short tour of the state today but Governor Eugene Foss, who desires renomination, has made no effort to obtain party support, as he is relying on his personal reputation to win the nomination over Thomas I. Hittgen of Springfield.

Interest in the primaries outside of the republican contest for governor centers in the size of the vote tomorrow and close political students predict that anything less than 100,000 votes will mean the repeal of the new law by the next legislature.

A heavy vote is expected in this city where the voters are much interested in the questions at issue.

In other parts of the state with few local contests to bring out the vote the attendance is expected to number the same as under the old caucus system.

LABOR DELEGATES
Occupied Pulpit at the Central M. E. Church

The Sunday night service at the Central M. E. church was a little bit out of the ordinary yesterday, the speakers being representative labor men. John J. Mahoney, president of the Trades & Labor council, and William E. Sprague of the Street Railway Men's union.

Mr. Mahoney spoke of the aims of the trades union movement, and said that what it asks is eight hours for work, eight hours for play, eight hours for sleep, and a living wage.

For more than 20 years, the labor men have asked for a 24-hour day for women and children in the textile industries; and surely, he said, if an eight-hour day is enough for a man, 24 hours a week is too much for women and children.

Referring to the strikes of the shoe workers, he said that that organization is what is known as insurgent. That is, men who were unable to reach the top of the ladder, went out and started another little union, so that they could be officers. The Boot and Shoe Workers' union has an agreement that there shall be no strikes and no lockouts, but that difficulties shall be settled by a board of arbitration. The actions of the other organizations are making it hard for the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. They are going out on strike for trivial reasons, and the trades union movement is blamed for it. He said, however, that the trades union does not believe in compulsory arbitration; but that other unions, besides the Boot and Shoe Workers, have arbitration agreements.

Referring to what the trades unions—especially the International Typographical union—are doing for their men, referring particularly to the home for aged and invalid printers, which is taking care of 150 invalids, he said that this organization is paying over $11,000 a month in old age pensions, to those who cannot or will not go to the home. Other organizations, having no homes, are paying still larger pensions, besides the death benefits, and one of the main objects of the trades union movement is to keep children out of the mill.

Mr. Sprague said that 26 millions of wage earners are enjoying the benefits secured by the two and one-half millions who are organized. He urged the necessity for the binding together of laborers for mutual protection, and said that the labor movement has also a religious side. It seeks to establish a higher and a fuller life for the toiler, and that is what the church also is seeking—to lift humanity. Why a conflict should exist between the labor movement and the church is beyond comprehension. The aspirations of trades unions are high—it is reaching for the ideal.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. N. T. Whitaker, referred to the strike of unorganized steel workers in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1910, describing the conditions of long hours and low wages, and said that when the facts came before the public, the church failed to stand squarely by the workmen. It was not demanded in the name of humanity, that the men should have fair play. But more and more, he said, the church is opening its doors to the labor men, to hear what the church can do for the workmen and for humanity. The labor council of the church of America is demanding one day of rest in even for the workman, a minimum living wage and reasonable hours of labor. The church is taking the position that every honest laborer should have a living wage and enough to save something, without depending upon the labor of his wife and children.

STATISTICAL RECORD

Of the Progress of the United States

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—"Statistical Record of the Progress of the United States, 1800-1911," is the title of a small document just issued by the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor. It pictures in statistical form conditions in the commercial, financial, industrial and transportation systems of the United States at brief intervals since the year 1800, down to, and in many instances including the year 1911. In these cases in which the subjects considered are measured by governmental fiscal year periods, the figures for the fiscal year 1911 are included; in those in which calendar year periods are used, of course, statements can only terminate with the calendar year 1910.

Among the interesting facts shown are that the area of continental United States was 3,629,566 square miles in 1800, advancing to 1,734,630 square miles in 1910; to 2,995,636 square miles in 1850; and 3,026,789 square miles in 1858, since which date no change in area is shown. The population, which was 3.4 million in 1800, was 93.4 million in 1911. Public debt, which was $3 million dollars in 1800, reached 2675 million dollars less cash in treasury in 1865, the figures of 1911 being 1015 million dollars. The per capita debt, which was $15.63 in 1800, and in 1865 $78.98, is in 1911 $10.83. The interest charge per capita, which amounted to 64c in 1800, and $4.12 in 1865, was in 1911, 23c, and the total annual interest charge, which was in 1800, 145 million dollars, was in 1911, 211-3 million dollars. Money in circulation, stated as 26 1-2 million dollars in 1800, was in 1911, $3,225,627,002, and the per capita circulation, which was in 1800 $4.59, was in 1911, $34.35. Deposits in all banks in the country cannot be shown earlier than in 1875, at which date they are set down as a little over 2 billion dollars, and in 1910, over 15 billion dollars. ## Hayrack Party Was Struck by a Train at Neenah, Wis.

NEENAH, Wis., Sept. 25.—Thirteen persons are dead, three others are dying and five are seriously hurt as the result of a fast train on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad running into a hayrack on which a party of 31 merry-makers were returning from a celebration yesterday.

A big billboard beside the railway tracks obscured the view from the locomotive as well as from the wagon. Dust and fog were contributory causes to the tragedy.

Nine members of the party escaped without a scratch. Nobody on the train suffered except from a severe jar. The collision occurred at 3.40 a. m., at the Commercial street crossing here. Train 121, north bound, whirled through the wagonload of singing and happy unfortunates who were returning from the Peter Hanson farm, where they had gone to attend the celebration of a wedding anniversary.

All but two, who were Chicago men, were residents of Menasha.

The dead:
JOHN DRILL, Chicago.
JAMES CHESLOCK.
GUSTAV FINN.
MABEL FINN.
JOHN HART.
STEVEN LISEK.

DOMINICK OMNIECHINSKI.
MABEL RENZ.
JOHN SCHIEDICK.
JOSEPH SCHIEDICK.
JOSEPH SIENYO.
FRANK SIGGARDT.
ISABELLE SUCHOWSKI.

The injured:
Philip Mett, Chicago; Benjamin Dzwonowski, Antone Kurmoski, Myron Olson, Anna Sodalski, John Suchodolski, Amanda Syring and Herman Syring.

Six Bodies on Pilot

Mangled bodies covered the right of way as the train, nine coaches in length, was brought to a stop 800 feet from the scene. Several were so badly mutilated that identification was possible only by fragments of clothing.

Six bodies were discovered on the locomotive pilot and two others were hurled through a flagman's shanty with such force as to overturn the structure. One of these was Miss Finn, who was projected through one of the side walls of the house and was breathing when removed.

She died a few hours later. Another of the victims was thrown high over a barn 50 feet from the tracks.

Among the occupants of the hay-rack who escaped were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pinski and their two-year-old child. They were seated in the front half of the rack, and the mother was holding the child in her lap.

About half way back in the wagon sat Mary Schwarzbauer. The latter was hurled about 50 feet and rendered unconscious. When found by rescuers the Brizinski child was in her arms, having escaped unscathed. The parents of the child were only slightly injured.

Saw Danger Too Late

Peter Hanson, driver and owner of the horse attached to the ill-fated rig, managed to cling to the reins and was the only person aboard who was not temporarily stunned by the collision.

He says he did not observe the on-rushing train until his team had reached the track. He whipped up the horses, but managed to get the wagon only half way across.

The train is said to have been nearly a half hour behind schedule and was running approximately 60 miles an hour.

Practically every person on the wagon was an employee of a wooden ware company, and all were invited to the Hanson farm to attend the wedding of one of their fellow employees. Mr. Hanson had conveyed the merry-makers to his farm in the early evening and was taking them back home.

A coroner's jury was impaneled, but adjournment was taken to give the district attorney and others opportunity to interview witnesses.

DEFENDS HARVARD

President Taft Resents Charges of Crane

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept. 25.—Speaking yesterday to the students of the university of Kansas President Taft digressed from his topic of the good the Y. M. C. A. has done to resent publicly the allegations as to drunkenness and dissipation in American universities recently made by R. T. Crane of Chicago.

"I do not know," said the president, "whether you have observed the attack made upon young men at Harvard by some gentleman who told it necessary to send a detective into that community to find out how wicked the boys were."

ing banks in 1880, the earliest year for which the figures can be shown, was a little less than 9 thousand, and in 1910 over 3 million. Government receipts, which amounted to $2.64 per capita in 1800, were in 1866, $14.55, and in 1911, $7.45, or about one-half what they were in 1866. Exports of domestic merchandise, which amounted to 22 million dollars in value in 1800, were over 2 billion dollars in 1911; and imports, which amounted to 91 million dollars in 1800, were 1-1/2 billion in 1911.

Many other subjects of this character stated by the document in question, include details of imports and exports by great groups and grand divisions, and principal ports through which shipped; the production of principal articles, such as wheat, corn, cotton, coal, sugar, copper, etc., from 1800 to 1910; the attendance in public schools, and sums expended for that work; postal receipts, and expenditures; and a few pages devoted to monetary and commercial conditions in the principal countries of the world.

Copies of the publication in question can be obtained by applying to the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor.

THE LABOR COUNCIL

Discussed the Records of the Candidates

The regular meeting of the Trades & Labor council was held yesterday afternoon in the hall at 32 Middle street. There was a large attendance of delegates and much business was transacted during the course of the meeting.

John J. Mahoney presented a lengthy report submitted by the legislative committee. The report referred principally to labor measures. Each article was taken up separately and discussed by the delegates and at the close the report as given was unanimously adopted. The vote of the Lowell delegation at the state house on the various matters was told in detail, and in reviewing them the members of the council expressed themselves in no uncertain terms towards the legislators who opposed them.

CONDUCTOR HOPE

Had a Narrow Escape From Being Killed

Arthur Hope, a conductor on the local division of the Bay State Street Railway Co., had a narrow escape from being killed last night about 8 o'clock as a result of falling from his car near Johnson's corner in Tyngsboro.

He was collecting fares, when he suddenly lost his balance and was thrown to the ground. Several persons on the car went to the assistance of Conductor Hope and placed him on the car and he was brought to Lowell. The ambulance which had been summoned was waiting for the car when it reached Merrimack square and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital. It was found that he was suffering from a slight concussion of the brain. Hope recovered his faculties at the hospital and stated that he did not know exactly how he happened to fall, but thought he might have been seized with a dizzy spell.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Lyman Crockett, one of the most popular young pupils of the village, was genuinely surprised at his home in Newfield street, last Friday evening, and presented a signet ring, by about 30 of his young friends. The presentation was made in a very unique manner by his close friend and fellow-scholar, "Doc" Armistead. After the presentation, a lunch was served, and a literary entertainment was enjoyed.

The executive committee of the No. Chelmsford Cricket club met on Friday evening, and among other matters considered, decided to hold a smoke-talk in Scribner hall on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. McEaney of Highland Ave. observed the 5th anniversary of their wedding at their residence last Wednesday evening. The event was celebrated by the holding of an informal reception and the serving of a bountiful supper which was attended by a large number of relatives and a few friends, many of whom had come from out of town for the occasion.

HIS HEAD CRUSHED

Man Injured at Middlesex Street Station

Sunday morning, while engaged in uncoupling a baggage car at the Middlesex street depot Frank Douglas, a car inspector, met with a very painful and serious accident by having his head crushed between two cars. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he was treated by the house surgeon. He regained consciousness in about two hours after the treatment, and examination, but could give very little information regarding the circumstances, surrounding the unfortunate accident.

It would seem, however, that Douglas was not a regular brakeman, but was what is known as a "car knocker" or inspector.

When the train which leaves Boston at 9 a. m. and arrives in Lowell at 10 a. m., pulled into the station, the baggage car was to be detached from the rest of the train and sent to the yard to be put on another train. Douglas stood on the side farthest from the platform and helped the regular brakeman uncouple the car, which was furnished with air brakes. When the engine drew back to take in the slack, the unfortunate man's head was caught between the two cars and terribly crushed. The ambulance was quickly summoned, and took him to the Lowell hospital. Douglas lives at 136 Branch street.

MAN CUT HIS THROAT

Was Despondent Because He Suffered From Asthma

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 25.—Charles Munce, a traveling cigar maker who came here from Boston Thursday night, where he had been receiving treatment in a hospital for asthma, cut his throat in the hallway of his boarding house at 43 First street shortly after four this morning. He died in an ambulance as he was being taken to the Eastern Maine Central hospital.

His windpipe was almost severed by the sharp blade of the small pocket knife which he used. Inability to longer endure the suffering caused by the disease is assigned as the cause. Officers of the local cigarmakers union are endeavoring to locate his relatives. It is thought he originally came from Cincinnati. He had a card in his pocket bearing the name of James Hadigan, 294 Bowdoin street, Boston.

AN EX-U.S. TREASURER

Is Charged With Violating the Postal Laws

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The postal authorities took steps today to lay their hands on a large sum, said to be more than $100,000 in cash, which they believe was kept in reserve by Javed Flagg, Jr., and others who were arrested Saturday charged with violating the postal laws in defrauding their customers through the mails.

Flagg and F. Tennyson Nealey, the former publisher, and others spent Saturday and Sunday night in jail but today the federal officers expected they would produce cash for bail, in spite of the fact that the court will require $55,000 before releasing them.

To prevent the accused stockbrokers from reaching their reserve fund before the federal authorities can get control of it, the postoffice inspectors prepared to have some of Flagg's customers file a petition in bankruptcy against him. In addition to $57,000 in cash which the inspectors declare Flagg and his partners kept in a safe deposit box, it is said that $19,000 had been received from customers since Sept. 1, indicating the magnitude of the business conducted by investors anxious to profit by the concern's offer of 52 per cent. on business.

Flagg maintains that his profits averaged 52 per cent, but declares that every dollar was made through legitimate stock exchange transactions. The federal officers have collected a number of witnesses, four of whom, they say, have turned over to Flagg's concern as much as $60,000. The government charges that Flagg's scheme was to pay customers the immense dividend for a short time after their investment, taking the money from the principal invested by his small army of customers. Three wagonloads of books and correspondence seized in Saturday's raid on his brokerage concern are being examined for evidence. By far the largest number of customers outside New York city, it is said, live in Bridgeport, Conn., the home of Daniel N. Morgan. Thence, N. Y., is said to be a close third, and Franklin, Pa., next.

The detectives say that the weekly luncheons given, customers at a famous restaurant near Flagg's office were a strong feature of his campaign. At these functions no expense was spared, although the conversation touched not a year return.

ENSIGN BELT KILLED

Commander of Little Gunboat Attacked by Hostile Natives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Ensign Haller Belt, commanding the little gunboat Pampanga was killed by hostile natives yesterday at the Yacans islands, which form part of the Philippine archipelago, several sailors of Ensign Belt's party being severely wounded. The details of the affair have not reached the navy department.

Commander Pains, in charge of the naval station at Olongapo, cables the brief report from Commander Seaton, chief of the gunboat Queros cruising in southern Philippine waters. The report stated that there had been an action yesterday between the force from the gunboat Pampanga and hostile Yacans on the Basilan islands, which lies just south of the town of Zamboanga. J. H. Catherwood, ordinary seaman was severely wounded. John McGuire, hospital apprentice, and J. H. McVittchen, machinist's mate, were slightly wounded.

Ensign Belt was a native of Texas, temporarily attached to the Pampanga. He was graduated from the naval academy in 1905.

Naval officials expressed the belief that the party was on an exploring expedition in the interior of the island of Basilan and suddenly met the Yacans, who are a primitive Malay tribe and fanatical adherents of the Moslem faith. The Yacans are very poor and their principal weapon is the famous "sampan," or blowgun, with which they project poisoned darts to great distances.

WORCESTER, Sept. 25.—An indefinite term in the women's prison at Sherborn was the sentence which Judge Wiley of the district court passed upon Miss Hope R. Flavel of Hartford, Conn., today. Miss Flavel pleaded guilty to the larceny of clothing from Worcester department stores. She was indicted last week by the federal court on charges of raising money orders in Springfield and New Haven.

THE AUTO AMBULANCE

To be Discussed at Special Meeting of the Charity Board

In the matter of the purchase of an auto ambulance, Harry W. J. Howe of the board of charities, allows that there is no time to be lost and at his request a special meeting of the board of charities will be held Wednesday night. In conversation with a reporter for The Sun, Mr. Howe said: "I have requested that a special meeting of the board of charities be called for Wednesday night for the purpose of taking action on the auto ambulance matter."

"I shall urge that one auto be purchased immediately, to be paid for out of the regular appropriation of the department. I am fully convinced that Lowell should no longer be without the auto ambulance, and that it is an imperative duty as one of five, entrusted with the care and supervision of the ambulance service, to make that service as up-to-date and efficient as possible. The aiding of the injured in the quickest possible time and the possibility of saving life, is of supreme importance."

I feel it my duty to force this matter and I shall continue to do so, until an auto ambulance is placed at the service of the people of Lowell.

This is a matter of "life saving" and not a game of "politics." I shall also insist that the ambulance shall always be accompanied by a doctor in accident calls, and this will necessitate the appointment of an additional ambulance surgeon, making a total of eight consecutive hours each day. The present system is decidedly wrong. One-half the accident calls are made without the doctor being present.

The injured person is hurriedly thrown into the wagon like a piece of merchandise. He is left all alone in his agony, while he is being hustled over the pavements at break-neck speed to a hospital from one to four miles distant. What kind of a service is that? Any body of men, in control of a municipal ambulance service, that will sanction, permit or tolerate such inefficient service is, I believe, criminally negligent to its responsibilities.

If we fail to get an auto ambulance for the city service, some one other than myself must assume a future responsibility.

THE MISSION FOR MEN

Was Opened in St. Peter's Church

Last Night

The women's mission which was conducted last week at St. Peter's church by the Augustinian Fathers was very successful and really the attendance was by far larger than had been anticipated by the missionaries. Services were conducted every evening and every morning, and it is estimated that over 3400 women followed the exercises of the retreat which were very fruitful.

Confessions were heard every afternoon and evening and at both masses in the morning communion was given, the attending priests having figured that over 10,000 communions had been distributed during the week. The retreat came to a close yesterday afternoon with a large attendance in both the main church and St. Paul's chapel. The services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, the renewal of the baptismal vows, benediction of the blessed sacrament and the conferring of the papal blessing.

The men's mission opened last night at 7:30 o'clock with a big attendance in the upper and lower churches. Rev. W. George Mullin recited the rosary in the upper church, and Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A., gave a thoughtful sermon on "Salvation." He prefaced his sermon by a few good suggestions to the men on how to make the mission. He praised the men for their loyalty to the church and its tenets as exemplified in the splendid attendance. "The sight of so many men in one whole body was enough to gladden the heart of any priest," said the reverend gentleman.

The choir rendered a special program at benediction which was given by Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A.

Long before the hour for opening the services the main church was filled to overflowing, making it necessary to open St. Paul's chapel, as the basement is called, which was also rapidly filled. Rev. John T. O'Brien, O. S. A., delivered an eloquent sermon on "Salvation." He emphasized that because one was a Catholic was not an assurance that hereafter he or she would enjoy the company of the saints in heaven. "One must hold fast to the church and its teachings, follow the straight and narrow path of righteousness in all things," said the speaker.

Rev. John T. O'Brien officiated at benediction in the lower church. The mission for the children of the parish, those who have made their first communion, opened today, and will continue every day at 4:15 o'clock, when instructions will be given followed by benediction. Friday afternoon the children will go to confession and will receive communion Saturday morning.

The five o'clock mass this morning was very largely attended, many being obliged to stand in the great edifice. Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, O. S. A., was the celebrant and after mass he gave a brief instruction on the commandments of God, taking the first commandments this morning. He drew lessons from the commandment showing what is meant by it.

Immaculate Conception Church

The rededication of the Immaculate Conception church will take place on Sunday, October 22, by which time it is expected the extensive repairs on the building will be completed.

The church was remodeled from bottom to top in the inside and it was hoped that everything would be in shape some time this month, but there was so much to do that the rededication ceremony has to be postponed. The church when completed will be the prettiest edifice of its sort for

TOBACCO CO.'S DISSOLUTION PLAN

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference looking to the reorganization of the American Tobacco Co. today that a petition would be filed with the United States circuit court on October 2 setting forth the proposed plan of dissolution in consonance with the mandate of the supreme court and that public hearings on the plan would follow. Dates for the public hearings were not announced.

A LOWELL ATHLETE

Won the Canadian National Championship at High Jumping

A national track and field championship event has come to Lowell, the first time in the city's history. James Antromedias, the young Greek athlete who did such good work in the different Y. M. C. A. events last spring and winter, went up to Montreal on Saturday as a member of the Boston Athletic Association's track team and won the Canadian national championship at high jumping. The leap that won for him the premier honors was one of six feet. Opposed to him were the greatest jumpers in Canada and in the United States. The crack jumpers of the Irish American and New York Athletic clubs of New York were forced to give way to the springy Lowell athlete and he content with minor places in that event. A short while ago the Boston Athletic club, realizing the latent capabilities of "Jimmy," invited him to become a member of their organization and on his return he brought the excellent training furnished by that association, has developed into a national champion. Saturday was the first time that he has competed in a national championship jumping event so it is not at all unlikely, indeed very probable, that when the American national championships occur next summer the Lowell boy will be able to duplicate his victory of Saturday and bring an American national championship to Lowell.

NOW NATURE MAKES NEW COMPLEXIONS

(From The Family Physician.) It is well known that the human skin is constantly undergoing a tearing down and building up process. With advancing years of wasting vitality this tissue-change lags; the lifeless, soiled surface skin stays on so long that its owner gets a "poor complexion." Common sense tells us this dead skin cannot be enlivened or beautified by any cosmetic, lotion or powder. The natural thing to do is to remove the offensive skin—remove the bad complexion. It has been found that ordinary mercurized wax completely absorbs the devitalized skin, in minute particles, so gently, gradually, as to cause no inconvenience. Mercurized wax, which any druggist can supply, is put on at night like cold cream, only not rubbed in, and washed off in the morning. If you would have a brilliantly beautiful complexion, just use this simple treatment.

A LOWELL SAILOR

Jeremiah McGlinchey, Jr.
Proved Himself Hero

Jeremiah J. McGlinchey of this city, son of Jeremiah McGlinchey of Gorham street, has been commended by Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop for gallantry in jumping overboard from the U. S. battleship Vermont and saving the life of a drowning comrade, Olaf Thoreson. The latter has been in the naval service for many years but he never learned to swim. While acting as coxswain for one of the Vermont's launches he fell overboard. The tide was exceptionally strong at the time and young McGlinchey took desperate chances in making the rescue. Without removing his clothes, the Lowell boy plunged over the side of the vessel and soon reached the drowning man. The latter struggled with McGlinchey but the young sailor held on to his man and soon had him aboard ship, assistance having been given by two mates. Young McGlinchey is a daring chap and has figured in several lifesaving affairs before. He made the trip around the world with the U. S. battleship fleet and is proud of the letter from the acting secretary of the navy.

Dinner was later served at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ovide Gill, 3 Hall street, and this evening the newly wed couple will entertain their relatives at the bride's home. ## When Neighbors Meet

MRS. BEN ZINE—How do you do, Mrs. Thaw. I haven't seen you for weeks. Where have you been keeping yourself?

MRS. NAP THAW—We have had our house repainted inside and out, and during the time the painters were at work, Nap and I stopped at our camp at the lake.

MRS. BEN ZINE—The last place we met was in C. B. Coburn Co.'s store, in Market street. You remember, I bought a tin can of Balm of Gilead and the same pleasant clerk who waited on me sold you a box of Coburn's Gold Finish.

MRS. NAP THAW—Yes, I bought a pint of the Gold Finish for 50c, and applied it to my radiators, gas jets and some of the picture frames. I was so pleased with the results, that Nap says I will never stop bragging.

EXCUSE ME!

Joseph H. Hibbard

FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS

In order for either party to win on election day it is absolutely necessary to place in nomination for office the candidate who will appeal favorably to all the voters after the nominations have been made. In the contest for the Republican nomination for register of deeds the candidate who can win on election day must be the candidate who will appeal favorably to the greatest number and in this case that candidate is Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard. Senator Hibbard is not only possessed of the ability required by the position which he seeks but added to it he has had exceptional experience in public life. In the six years that Senator Hibbard has held public office he has shown an abundant possession of ability and sound business judgment. He has been the foremost advocate of some of the most important measures of many years and has ever shown sound judgment by which he has won the confidence of all his colleagues under the mild dome. That his ability has been recognized by the powers on Beacon Hill is evidenced by the fact that he has served on the most important committees. For four years he was senate chairman and hence, presiding official of the committee on roads and bridges and as such he has been called upon frequently to pass judgment on the varying opinions of some of the leading legal lights of the state, and as such incidentally he was instrumental in bringing to a head the fight for the River road between Lowell and Lawrence, which had been before the legislature unsuccessfully for 10 years. He also served on the committees on prisons, mercantile affairs, insurance, street railways and military affairs.

That the people of this senatorial district appreciated his worth is evidenced by the fact that he is the only man who has ever received four terms in the senate from this vicinity. Senator Hibbard was born in Shoreham, Vt., April 5, 1866, and received his early education in the schools of his native place, after which he entered Concordia Academy at Concordia, N. Y., where he graduated with honor in 1885. While a student of the academy he took up the study of the violin which proved of much practical benefit to him in later years—for who has not heard of Hibbard's celebrated orchestral? Senator Hibbard came to Lowell 30 years ago and has resided here ever since. He is a charter member of Lowell lodge of Elks, a charter member of Centralville lodge of Odd Fellows, a charter member of Passaconaway Tribe of Red Men, past chief ranger of Court Garlin, F. of A., a member of the Owls, Moose and the New England Order of Protection, a member of the Direct Grange and Lowell Board of Trade. He is also a popular member of the Lowell Musicians' Association and has represented that organization at three national conventions.

Senator Hibbard has unquestioned business ability and experience, is the soul of honesty and is possessed of never-failing courtesy and is the man who can win on election day.

HOW IS YOUR WEIGHT?

While it is true that too much weight is to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls on the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists, by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood, by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nutrient tablets, and this is always followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.

Board of Registrars

Chairman Allard of the board of registrars, and his worthy assistants, were busy as natters when the city hall reporter for The Sun dropped in at their place of business this morning.

"I wish you would state in The Sun," said Mr. Allard, "that those who registered at the special session last Friday and do not find their names on the list will find them at the booths. We have had several telephone calls from persons who could not find their names on the lists that are posted, and the reason for that is that the time was not long enough. Tell them, however, that they need not be alarmed. Their names will be sent to the booths."

The special session on Friday added 135 names to the list, and that's going some. It was the largest single session since registration opened. This registration at this session, by wards, was as follows: Ward 1, 16; ward 2, 45; ward 3, 19; ward 4, 36; ward 5, 16; ward 6, 12; ward 7, 16; ward 8, 20; ward 9, 16, and this total of 135 added to the list for the other sessions makes a grand total of 465 names to be added to the list since Sept. 1.

BATTLESHIP LOST

Explosion on the Liberte Cost
Many Lives

TOULON, France, Sept. 25.—Fire broke out early today in the ammunition hold of the battleship Liberte, counted one of the finest vessels in the French navy, and the explosion which followed wrecked the great ship and killed more than half of her crew of 793 officers and men. The dead will probably number 500.

Story of the Disaster

The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock. At first it did not appear to be serious but somehow or another it gained a quick advantage over the squad of sailors sent to extinguish it. The vessel had not been flooded on account of the apparently trifling nature of the blaze.

The force of the explosions were terrific. They shook the vessel fore and aft, each one seemingly stronger than that preceding, opening great fissures in the armor and framework of the vessel.

A Mass of Fire

The vessel immediately became a mass of fire and smoke and soon almost demolished by the terrific detonations, sank to the bottom of Toulon harbor. At an early hour unofficial estimates of the number of dead ran as high as 500. Estimates by naval men varied widely, but there was no doubt that the loss of life was more than 500. Scores of the seamen died in their bunks. A few dozen saved themselves by jumping overboard. Many of those lost leaped into the water and were drowned before the boats from the other ships in the roadstead could reach them.

Two hundred of the crew escaped death owing to the fact that they were ashore on leave. Commander Jaures, a brother of the socialist deputy, was on board.

The carnage in the explosions was worse than could ever have occurred in an actual naval engagement. The first crash came when the crew was for the most part dispersed in various sections of the vessel. They were without warning of their danger. Scores of bodies continued to Page Four

CHIEF HOSMER HOME

He Returns From the Convention of Fire Chiefs

Chief of the Lowell fire department Edward S. Hosmer is home again from the convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers of the United States and Canada, and reports that he is in good health, and that he had not only a good time but a very profitable one from a fire engineer's standpoint, having received during his absence some valuable information regarding the construction and operation of various kinds of fire apparatus.

The chief arrived in Lowell shortly after three o'clock, and immediately went to work at his office, where he found plenty to occupy his attention.

The convention was held in Milwaukee last week, having been called to order Monday, and came to an adjournment Friday evening. The convention was the 39th of the society, and Chief Hosmer says that it probably was the largest and perhaps the most enthusiastic of any convention ever held by the association.

The chief says there were upward of eleven hundred delegates in attendance.

Speaking of the fire apparatus of the west, Chief Hosmer said: "Lowell is in good shape. We are ahead of most of the western cities, but I fear that in the next five years they may go ahead of us if we don't watch out pretty carefully, for they are going in for a wholesale installation of modern, up-to-date auto fire trucks, steamers, hose wagons, protectives, combinations, etc. The western chiefs, and for that matter many of the eastern chiefs, went wild over the auto fire trucks exhibited during the convention, and well they might, for in my long experience I never saw anything like it. It was certainly a great improvement to all present in the method of operating and manning these great trucks."

"Milwaukee is a beautiful city, but not more so than Lowell. Her people are generous to a fault and we were right royally entertained everywhere along the line. I am feeling quite well, and up to my eyes in work."

The boy was attended by the surgeons at the Emergency hospital.

POWERFUL INFLUENCES TRIAL OF DR. SMITH

Urges Appointment of Nathan D. Pratt to Superior Court Bench

A large delegation, representatives of the Middlesex Bar association, lawyers from different parts of Middlesex county and a number of laymen called on Governor Foss this forenoon to urge the appointment of Nathan D. Pratt to the superior court bench. The delegation of legal lights from Lowell included Judge John J. Pickman, Judge Frederick A. Fisher, Markin E. Trull, Col. James H. Carris, John J. Hogan, James J. Kerwin, John Devine, Frederick P. Marble, Thomas J. Enright and several others from all parts of Middlesex county.

After the lawyers had had their say, the laymen, all well known business men, waited upon his excellency and used their best influence in favor of the appointment. Mr. Pratt was entirely unconscious of the movement in his behalf and his ears must have burned in view of the many complimentary things that were said about him. It was made clear that Lowell is the only large city in the commonwealth that is minus a resident judge and the appointment, it was argued, belongs to Lowell. Gov. Foss expressed himself as being well satisfied with Mr. Pratt's qualifications, and the delegation came away feeling that it would be Mr. Pratt for the superior court bench.

The trial of Dr. Sumner P. Smith, charged with having performed an illegal operation, which it is alleged, caused the death of Miss Katherine G. Roark, was resumed this morning at the criminal session of the superior court at East Cambridge.

Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner for Suffolk county, was the first witness called. He testified to having viewed the body of Miss Roark at the Boothby hospital shortly after eight o'clock on the night of the 13th of August and also to having performed an autopsy on the body the following morning at the morgue.

Dr. Magrath's testimony was along medical and technical lines, it being a general explanation of what he found upon his examination and autopsy on the body of the deceased.

Lawyer Harvey objected to many of the questions asked by District Attorney Edgemo and during a little dispute between counsel Mr. Harvey stated that he intended to argue that Dr. David D. Scannell of the Boothby Sur-

PRINCETON BOULEVARD

Is to be Torn Up to Permit
Sewer Construction

It will not be glad news for the automobilists to hear that the Princeton boulevard is to be torn up at a certain point for sewer purposes, but that's just what's going to happen. In order to extend the sewer in Webster and Rutland streets it was necessary to spoil the face of the Princeton boulevard and the boulevard being a state highway the city had to get permission from the highway commission before disturbing. The permission has been granted. That's all.

Paving of Streets

In order to save time the street department will alternate, so to speak, between East Merrimack street and Dutton street. This same policy was followed out in the paving of Merrimack and Gorham streets and with good results. When one half of East Merrimack street has been paved the gang will switch over to Dutton street and that will save considerable time.

Cambridge Street Bridge

Supt. Fulham said today that the Cambridge street bridge, John is going along all right. The job would have been pretty well underway now but for the fact that it was found necessary to drive piles and considerable quick sand was encountered. The quicksand, says the work quite a check but the worst is over.

Larger Water Mains

Larger water mains are being installed in Parker, Pine, B and Shaw streets. This is being done for the purpose of giving greater satisfaction in this district where so many complaints have been made about the rocky condition of the water. It is thought that a larger pipe will eliminate a certain amount of the friction that is responsible for the unsatisfactory condition of the water.

CHEEVER ST. SCHOOL

The Cheever street school, which was the topic of so much talk last week, is again closed and will not reopen until after the arrival of Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, who is at present in Quebec preaching a mission. The reverend father is expected home Thursday morning, at which time he will give final orders for the opening of the day nursery.

According to a statement made yesterday by one of the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph's parish, the school was opened three days last week for registration of the children who are too young to attend the other schools, or again who are old enough to go to school, but on account of their parents' leaving every day were forced to stay at home. Altogether over 100 of the children were registered and it is expected that many more names will be registered next week.

The children, boys and girls, ranging in age from four to seven as well as the infants will be brought to the day nursery at 6 o'clock in the morning, and the parents will have to call for them at 7 p. m. at the latest. They will be taken care of by two Grey Nuns of the Cross, who will have general supervision of the institution and they will be assisted by four competent women.

The reason for taking children from 4 years up at the day nursery, is that a large number of them are out in the street the biggest part of the day, their parents working in the mills, leaving home at 6 o'clock in the morning not to return till noon and then after six. These children will be cared for properly and kept away from the streets.

"We have asked for the Cheever street school, continued the reverend father, for a day nursery and not for a parochial school, and I think it would have been proper for whoever got out the report that the building was to be used for a parochial school, to go to the right party for information before spreading it around. Fr. Watelle is in Quebec and his will return probably Thursday night at which time this misunderstanding will be properly rectified. And again we wish it understood that the Cheever street school will not be used for a parochial school, but for a day nursery as it was first intended."

POSTAL EMPLOYES

There was fun galore at Mud Pond in Tyngsboro yesterday, the occasion being the 11th annual outing of the local postal employees, and it certainly was one long to be remembered by those who had the good fortune to be present. This popular organization has in the past held many notable events but none of them quite came up to the big entertainment of yesterday, for from 11 o'clock in the morning until the doxology was sung in the early evening there certainly was something doing every minute. There was fun, there was merriment, there was good eating, good cheer and good athletic sports, and how could you beat that in these New England states.

There were many excellent features, but the piece de resistance was the chicken dinner served on the green. The dinner was certainly all that could be desired, and to say that the United States follows did full justice to the toothsome repast is putting it very lightly.

The fun began about noon with a light lunch and then the sports, of course no outing would be complete without a baseball game. There was one out there, that is to say, the carriers attempted to play, but there is no joy on Gorham street, for the mighty Megher was knocked out of the box by the clerk, and the carriers, and the clerk won by a score of 26 to 12. The battery for the carriers was Megher and Grant, and for the clerk, O'Dea and Ivers.

The other sports were equally interesting and consisted of hot yard dash, first James Grant, prize cut buttons; second, Dan Qualey, necktie; one-half mile run, first James O'Dea, pipe; second, Peter Monahan, suspenders; one-mile run, first Dan Qualey, umbrella; second, John Nealon, necktie; high jump, first James Grant, stickpin; second, Albert Sully, pair of garters; hop, step and jump, first Dan Qualey, suspenders; second, James Grant, handkerchief; broad jump, first Dan Qualey, suspenders; second, James Grant, bolt; fat man's race, first James Grant, frozen cakes of shaving soap; second, Albert Sully, pair of garters.

The general manager of the affair was George L. Adams, and the general secretary was John Sheehan. The guests of honor were Postmaster Joseph Legare and Assistant Postmaster Edwards Cheney.

J. L. CHALIFOUX DEAD

Prominent Lowell Business Man
Passed Away in New York

A rather sudden death occurred in New York yesterday afternoon, when Joseph L. Chalifoux, one of Lowell's best known residents, passed away from an attack of acute peritonitis after only one day's illness. The deceased was on a business trip to New York and on Saturday he took suddenly ill and his family in this city were notified by telegram. Mrs. Chalifoux with her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Stevens, at once hastened to his bedside and in the evening Mr. Paul A.

of trade, which he once served as president, also a member of the Vesper Country and Highland clubs. He was a director of the Union National bank and a trustee of the Central Savings bank, both of which institutions valued highly his business judgment. He was also a life trustee of the Textile school and has served on various important public commissions. He was a great factor in the advancement of the French people in this city, having taken a great deal of interest in all their movements.

In 1876 Mr. Chalifoux was married to Miss Nellie M. Gallagher of this city. They had five children, all of whom are living: Paul E. and Harry L., now associated in the business which he had incorporated; Alice F. (Mrs. J. C. Ellisworth), now of South Bend, Ind.; Helen Ada (Mrs. Charles A. Stevens), resident of Lowell; and Elizabeth R. (Mrs. L. C. Chapin), now of South Bend. Mr. Chalifoux had but recently returned from a visit to his two daughters in Indiana.

The announcement of Mr. Chalifoux's death has been a great shock to his friends. Last week he attended a meeting of the charter committee at the board of trade rooms and made several suggestions which were adopted. He was deeply interested in every movement for the benefit of the city and felt that the new charter it adopted would give Lowell a more progressive method of doing business. A funeral notice appears elsewhere in this paper.

THE LATE J. L. CHALIFOUX

Joseph L. Chalifoux was born at St. Henri de Mascouche, Que., Dec. 50, 1850. He received his early education in the provincial schools and later entered Masson college, Terrebonne, Que., graduating in the classical and business courses of that institution.

Upon leaving school he entered the drug business for a time, but in 1868 he came to Lowell and secured employment as a clerk in a clothing store, where he devoted himself faithfully to the business and was so successful that in 1875 he was able to start in business for himself, in a modest way, with a single clerk for assistant.

From that small beginning he steadily built up the present clothing business conducted under his name, employing many men. In 1893 he started a branch store in Birmingham, Ala., and the enterprise proved to be a very good proposition and in the latter place he erected one of the finest office buildings in the south.

Mr. Chalifoux became one of the city's most substantial and widely trusted citizens. He was the owner of considerable real estate, including the new Colonial building which replaced Barrister's Hall at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets, the Chalifoux building in Central street and several buildings in the vicinity of Moody street.

Deceased was a member of the board

James J. Storror Indicted by the Federal Grand Jury

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—James J. Storror, a heavy stockholder in the United Shoe Machinery Co., and a former director who was indicted with five other officials by the federal grand jury last week, furnished $10,000 bail in the United States circuit court today. As in the case of the three officials who were in court last week, Mr. Storror was not asked to plead to the indictment. Mr. Storror was represented by Charles F. Choate and Roland Boyden and at the close of the proceedings he issued the following statement:

"It was a complete surprise to me to learn on my arrival at the steamship pier in New York on Saturday that I had been indicted by the government in the shoe machinery case. I resigned from the company nearly two years ago and for a considerable period before that had not been active in the company's affairs. I hope and believe I am as anxious as anyone to play the law. I certainly never had the slightest intention of violating the Sherman law and so far as I know neither I nor any of the officers or directors of the company committed any violations of the law during the time I was conversant with its affairs."

THE NASHUA K. OF C.

Royally Entertained by Lowell Council Yesterday

Lowell council No. 72, Knights of Columbus, entertained the members of Nashua council at the Genoa Country club, in Tyngsboro, yesterday, and a perfect day, congenial gathering and lavish hospitality combined to make the event the biggest and best affair of its kind ever held on the splendid country home of the knights. For years there has been a warm, friendly feeling between the two councils, and annually the New Hampshire men feast the Lowell boys, while the latter return the compliment with a reception here. Yesterday's event was attended by about 100 members from Nashua, while several hundred from Lowell went out on special cars to greet the boys from the Granite state. On arriving at the grounds all hands were made acquainted, the committee from Lowell council doing the honors in the reception. At 1:15 the call for dinner was announced by Trustee John Avelich, and all marched to the beautiful pine grove, an ideal spot, where was spread a great dinner.

After dinner the sports were on, the base ball game coming first. It was a hotly contested game, and Nashua won only after a hard struggle. School Committeees Farrington, Billy Woods of the locals and Gaffney of the

Fr. McDonough and Mayor Barry of Nashua, Rev. Fr. Wrenn, Mayor Meehan, State Auditor Robert J. Thomas, and others. In some respects it marked the formal closing of the club after a busy season, and the capful manner in which the arrangements were handled reflects great credit on the committee, headed by Grand Knight Henry J. Heaps. Other members included Deputy Grand Knight Joseph F. Bourke, Lecturer John H. Murphy, Financial Secretary Philip J. Breen and John Welch, Edward Turner, the very accommodating custodian of the club, lent valuable assistance and is due a word of praise for his work.

Plans to Discharge a Number of Its Employees

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—A special train bearing a representative of every department of the Boston and Maine railroad left the North station this forenoon to visit every station along the line of the entire system for the purpose of blazing the way for the official ax which is soon to follow, marking the beginning of the greatest retrenchment ever undertaken on this or any other railroad in recent years. The reason for this wholesale retrenchment, in which hundreds of faithful employees will lose their positions, is explained in the claim that during one of the summer months the passenger receipts have fallen off from $17,000 to $4000 a day, and in less than six days during the entire month were the receipts equal to those of the corresponding days of the previous year. It is impossible to state as early as this the full extent of the retrenchment, but it was said yesterday that doubtless a number of trains would be taken off, while scores and probably hundreds of train men, yard men, station men, shop men and others employed by the Boston and Maine would be laid off to aid in curtailing the expenses of the road.

is now an unnecessary misfortune. ERADICO removes it with perfect results. We make no claims for ERADICO that we do not guarantee. There are other so-called hair removers, pastes and powders, which cannot be dissolved, and therefore cannot be absorbed by the skin, and consequently never reach the root of the hair. ERADICO is a liquid, and readily enters the pores of the skin. It removes superfluous hair within two minutes after application. No matter what your experience may have been—use ERADICO and you won't be disappointed. ERADICO is a blessing to society women. Evening dress need no longer be a bugbear. This is an important branch of the service, as the trainmasters are required to get trains out of the station on time, and have charge of making up the extra crews for outgoing passenger trains, the crews being assigned to take out the trains oftentimes arriving on inward trains too late to do so.

MAN HELD IN $10,000

Charged With Attack on His Wife

BANGOR, Sept. 23.—After being at liberty only a few weeks after completing a term of three years in the state prison, Joseph Stevens, a Millinocket Italian, is behind the bars again, this time in the Bangor jail to remain until the February term of court unless he secures $10,000 bail.

Stevens was brought here Saturday night by Millinocket officers after a hearing in the Millinocket municipal court on the charge of assault with intent to kill his wife.

According to the testimony, Stevens and his wife had a quarrel, in which Mrs. Stevens' mother took part. Stevens, it was alleged, locked his wife and her mother in a room with himself and said that he was going to kill them. Mrs. Stevens, however, snatched a revolver from his hand and threw it out of the window. Then Stevens, she says, attacked her, seizing her by the throat and they were struggling when Fred Peluso heard her screams and, breaking down the door, separated them. Other Italians came to the rescue and Stevens was overpowered and locked up.

Nearly four years ago Stevens figured in a sensational case in which Angus Grant, a Bangor man, was shot and killed. Stevens fled to Canada, but was found, lured to the American side and arrested. He pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to three years in the state prison.

NUMBER OF OFFENDERS

Appeared in the Police Court This Morning

The dock in police court this morning held a number of Sunday drunks, women offenders and old time offenders, and in consequence there were many five and six dollar fines, and quite a few were sent away for a long period of time either to the state farm at Bridgewater or the Lowell jail. Judge Hadley expressed surprise at the number of women drunks, assembled in the court dock, and as most of them had been there before they were given direct sentences.

Sunday drunks were the first upon the list and they each were given the customary five dollar fine, which most of them paid, and were released. Among the number were John Harris, Hugh Riley, David W. Adel and James Santos.

Crab Shooters
Theodore Makarkas and Antonio Santos together with several others were more than tucking away the silver yesterday afternoon in an alleyway near the North common, and were shouting with glee "Come seven, come eleven." In a great game of crap shooting when Patrolman John Gantley put in an appearance, and promptly nabbed them. This morning in court they were assessed $5 each which they promptly paid.

Annie McCabe was before the court for the third time this year, and she will rest for the next three months at the state farm.

Jeremiah Mahoney was charged with drunkenness and upon his solemn promise to do better he was placed on probation.

Mary Brennan, who until yesterday had been enjoying a few days of probationary respite from confinement at East Cambridge, was before the court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. She pleaded hard to be given another chance, and with tears in her eyes produced documentary proof that her brother would provide her with a good home in Somerville if she was allowed to go upon probation.

The police will look into the case. Frank J. Thorpe was fined $5 and given one month in which to pay the same, during which time he will be on probation. Mary F. Trainer was sentenced to the state farm on the charge of drunkenness. John P. Moran was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory, and for the next year he will be in the care of the probation officer.

James Gallagher pleaded not guilty to a fourth offence of drunkenness, but after Patrolman Winters and Clarke testified he was adjudged guilty and sentenced to five months in the Lowell jail. He appealed and was held in $200 for the superior court.

Alphonse Bellinatre was sentenced to the state farm, and his wife, Olivia, was given two months in jail for being drunk, while their companion, Odellman Tourantier, was sentenced to four days in jail. There were five $3 fines and 14 were released by the probation officer.

BEN TRIES A NEW METHOD OF PULLING TEETH

THE UMPIRE ATTACKED

Evans Was Blamed for Defeat of the Clevelands

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—A free-for-all fight, in which several persons were injured, came as the disgraceful climax to the game between the Athletics and Naps yesterday afternoon, in which the champions were victorious, 5 to 3.

The trouble, that broke with a swift, sudden, which caught what few policemen there were on the grounds completely off their guard, came as umpire Billy Evans walked off the field. The crowd of nearly 14,000 were in ugly mood, due to several decisions that cost the Naps hits, and probably the game.

Evans had been jeered and hissed for several innings. His action in sending Butcher to the bench in the ninth for disputing a strike, added fuel to the flames of anger, and when Evans walked toward the Cleveland bench, a man walked toward him, and after a few words, struck at the umpire. Evans was on the floor and passed on, followed by the crowd, which was growing rapidly.

Then another man who had been calling Evans names crowded him against the railing as the umpire started to go down the steps to the clubhouse. Evans pushed him away and then the fight began. Evans began to use his fists with vigor—and he knew how to use them. In a moment two men had been knocked down and then a dozen persons joined in the fight. Several rain blows at Evans, while others, including several of the Naps and a number of the Athletics ran to the umpire's assistance. For a few moments there was a lively mixup of arms and heads until Lajole, Eddie Collins and Birmingham got Evans out of the mob and into the subway that leads to the clubhouse. Then a policeman arrived and with the aid of the players held the crowd back till the umpire and players could get to their rooms.

Evans was injured in the side and about the back and was taken home, while one other man was taken away in an ambulance. During the excitement a woman who got tangled in the mob fainting and had to be taken home in an invalid carriage.

Pres. Barrow and Manager Stovall, who were in an upper box, hurried to the field and, aided by plain clothes detectives, restored order. It is feared the disturbance will hurt Sunday ball in Cleveland, where the games in the past have always been marked by the best of order.

Two recruit pitchers, Martin and Baskette, were pitted against each other in yesterday's game and both did pretty well. Baskette had one hit in the second when the Naps did some wild throwing that enabled Murphy, who had walked, to steal second, take third and score without a hit. The Naps went ahead again in their half of the second on a pass, a hit by pitcher, an error of Lapp and Baskette's single. Baskette held the visitors down to two hits till the fourth, when Derriek got a triple with one out, but was caught at the plate on Lapp's grounder. Then Baskette made the error of giving Martin a base on balls, which was followed by Lord's single and doubles by Collins and Oldring that got four runs home before the inning ended. The Athletics got but one hit after that, but they had enough, for the best the Naps could do was a run in the fifth, when Jackson, who drew a pass, was sent to third by Lajole's hit and scored when Martin made a balk. ## THE EASTERN LEAGUE

Rochester Wins Pennant for Third Time

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The 1911 season of the Eastern league closed yesterday with double-headers, at Providence and Newark, the fallend clubs in the season's standing.

Pres. Edward G. Barrow, in reviewing the season last night, said it might easily be classed as one of the most successful in the 20 years' history of this, the senior organization in minor baseball leagues.

"The winning of the pennant by Rochester for the third consecutive time," said Pres. Barrow, "constitutes a record in the league, for no other club has won the flag even twice in succession. The success of John Gaudin's team was well earned, for it excelled in all departments of the game, and was particularly strong on the road. Luck was also something of a factor. The nine went through the entire season practically intact. Jack Dunn's Baltimore team, which ran a close race for the leadership, finished 24 points behind, had worse luck, for three or four of the best men were laid up at times.

"It has been an unusually interesting race," he continued, "notwithstanding the wide gap which separated first and second division teams. Both Baltimore and Toronto threatened to capture the pennant, and it is to be remarked that either one of these clubs won enough games to do so under ordinary conditions. Rochester, however, being urged by the two speedy clubs at its heels, ran its winners up to 99 games out of the 152 played. This is another record for the league.

"Toronto came within half a game of displacing the leaders during July, but later fell back, and Baltimore forged ahead and pressed the champions hard. It was not until this past week that the winning of the flag was decided, and not until Saturday that the battle for second place was concluded, with Baltimore the victor."

Pres. Barrow said it had been a successful season financially. "Toronto holds the record for attendance," he said, "for the club there drew crowds of major league proportions, at times as many as 17,000. Buffalo and Baltimore were the banner cities of the circuit for steady attendance, however. An average of about 4,000 spectators saw the games in these cities. Not a club lost any money this year and most of them made more than ever."

LITTLE "CHINK"

A LOST DOG CAME NEAR GOING TO CHINA

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—"Chink," a little black and tan dog, owned by John Peacock, an insurance broker of No. 384 Madison street, Brooklyn, came near going to China on the Chinese cruiser Hal Chi, soon to sail from this port, after a two weeks' visit.

How Chink got from his home in Brooklyn to the cruiser, 10 miles away, is a mystery. His master thinks he was stolen when he went out last Friday.

On Monday he was found aboard the warship. The boatmen who take visitors out to the vessel say a little dog was seen about the landing at the foot of West Eighty-eighth street Monday, and that he followed two women aboard a boat that was leaving for the Hal Chi.

When the boat reached the cruiser, a boatman evidently supposed he belonged with the women and put him aboard. The Chinese tars made friends with "Chink," but their officers thought he ought to be returned to his owner, for he is a nice dog and wore a fine collar bearing his license number.

Lieutenant M. C. Mang wrote to Police Commissioner Waldo, and publication of the story led to Chink's restoration to his owner Saturday.

GENERAL LAWRENCE

The First Mayor of Medford is Dead

MEDFORD, Sept. 25.—Gen. Samuel C. Lawrence, first mayor and leading citizen of this city, the largest individual stockholder of the Boston & Maine railroad, and one of the leading citizens of this country, died at his home, 7 Rural avenue, last evening, shortly after 7 o'clock.

He had been in a comatose state since Saturday and sank steadily yesterday. His death was caused by kidney trouble.

His wife, Mrs. Caroline R. Lawrence,

WEST POINT HAS RECORD SQUAD OUT WITH MANY VETERANS BACK

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Judging from the amount of material on hand, the supporters of the Army football team have a right to expect a formidable eleven this season. Only three men have been lost from the 1910 eleven through graduation, those being Surles, fullback, and Hicks and Weir, right guards. All the other veterans are back and in good condition. This leaves a full left wing intact, for

JOHNSON---WELLS

Opposition to the Bout in England

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Apparently unmoved by the opposition to their pugilistic meeting, Jack Johnson and Bombarier Wells are hard at work at their respective training quarters. When the black champion left here for the French capital he was fat, and if he attains his fighting weight by Oct. 2 he will have put in some strenuous work.

Wells claims to be in the pink of condition and looks it. For the remainder of his training season the English champion will take things easy, doing only enough work to keep to weight.

Although the world's heavyweight championship is presumably at stake, the fight is not causing a great deal of excitement in sporting circles here. Even the big purse of $10,000, the largest yet given for a prize fight outside of the United States, has not stirred the public to enthusiasm. In opposition to the fight, a great deal of criticism has been leveled against the sportswriters and the pulpits.

Most of the pugilistic experts, writing for the sporting papers, continue to criticize Wells' backers for permitting him to pit himself against the champion. These writers agree in describing Wells as a promising but inexperienced fighter, and they deplore the blight to his career which a defeat at this time would entail.

The attitude of the pulpits toward the contest is well voiced by Rev. F. B. Meyer of Regent's park chapel. "It was described, according to the minister as a great boxing contest, because a prize fight was contrary to law."

"But," added Mr. Meyer, "the fact that one of the combatants is the negro Johnson, who won the championship of the world in the sickening exhibition of last year, and has to hold it against the English champion, proves that there is no real difference between this contest and that of last year, which American opinion banished to the outskirts of their civilization."

This will be the first heavyweight championship to be decided here since the fight between Tommy Burns and Gunner Mail at the National sporting club, and preparations are being made to accommodate a record crowd.

The match will take place in the Empress hall, Earle court, a place now used as a skating rink. The hall is one of the largest in London, seating 15,000 and providing standing room for several thousand more.

The only detail of the fight still unarranged is the question of the referee, which will be decided by the fighters one week before the contest.

Four Persons Perished in Incendiary Fire in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Four persons were smothered to death early this morning in a fire which is believed to be incendiary. Two small buildings at 1,136 South Sangamon street were destroyed. The dead are Harry Egatovitch, his wife, their baby, and L. Alpert, a boarder. They lived in a third of a three-story rear building. A two-story building fronting on the street was also partly destroyed. All other occupants of the buildings escaped in their night clothing.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A theatrical attraction classified as a "musical comedy" is billed to appear at the Opera House Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29-30. It is entitled "The Newweds and Their Baby." This style of entertainment is one that the wise-creases of the amusement field have been consigning to oblivion for several years. It is true that a good many of them have passed into the discard. But when the doctor, the professor, the eccentric German waiter, the big black bear, the young lovers, and big beauty chorus, easily lead the van. It is not likely that our theatregoers will miss this one.—Adv.

THE NEST EGG

Zelda Sears, the clever comedienne and delineator of character roles, will offer a novelty to our theatregoers in "The Nest Egg," a play written to suit her peculiar temperament and odd style, by Anne Caldwell, who, as a writer of comic verses and magazine stories has achieved some reputation in the literary world. Miss Caldwell was also the co-author of "The Top of the World," which had a season's run in New York city and afterwards had quite a successful engagement in Chicago, so that she is not an unknown quantity to theatregoers.

It is certain that Miss Caldwell has created a comedy on new lines and with absolute novelty in theme and story in "The Nest Egg," and in these days of rollicking dramatic plays and time-worn situations and complications, it is refreshing to be able to stand this fact.

"The Nest Egg" will receive its first presentation in this city tonight at the Opera House, where it comes direct with its original cast and production from its prosperous run in New York city, where it had been playing at the Bijou theatre for several months and for five weeks at the Chicago Opera

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The same policy of the past is to be the policy of the present and future at the Merrimack Square theatre. None but the best of vaudeville amusement and the highest type of photo-plays have combined in bringing a clientele to this playhouse that compares with the very best in the city, and in an effort to retain such patronage, as well as to show some appreciation of the very generous way in which the theatregoing public of Lowell has taken to this form of entertainment, the management will spare no expense or effort in bringing to the city the choicest and clearest of acts.

As a leader for the week, there is "The Frasier Troupe," a quintet of refined actors, and actresses in a highly entertaining series of Scotch and Irish songs, dances and bag piping. There may be many offerings after the style which the Frasier Troupe presents but none quite so good. The fact that its members have been featured in many of the larger cities of the east and have bookings which extend through the entire winter season should be sufficiently assuring of the superior quality of their act. Don't miss them.

"The Open Gate," one of the most interesting of Haddon Chambers' most recent plays will be the weekly presentation by our stock company. This play is without doubt a real leader for it has been put on before the public by some of the best known entertainers of the country. Kendal Weston and his associate players, including Miss Phelps, Mr. Reese and Miss Beatrice Saville, the latter a recent addition to the company, should have many new admirers in this place for it gives each and everyone an opportunity to display his or her talent to advantage. Mr. Weston is said to be especially clever in the character in which he appears. The stage effects of the play are in keeping with the high standard of the production.

The other contributors for the week are the Dick Thompson company in a bright little Irish singing comedy sketch entitled "Erin Go Bragh," and The Shillings are among the most expert marksmen in the world. Their act includes several new and original works with the rifle. Miss Anna McMahon will again be the soloist for the week, and the photo-plays are all selected with a view of meeting with the approval of the patrons. The box office telephone number is 2553. Call up and have your name placed on the subscription list. It costs nothing.—Adv.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

If you feel as though there's a good, hearty laugh in your system and you believe that you would feel much better if you did, then let your young-ster, or one of the boys, take the offerings of "Naughty Rebecca," the funniest farce ever written, which the Donald Mack stock company will produce, commencing with this afternoon's matinee. Hagerman, a dramatist of repute, dramatized the story of "Naughty Rebecca," furnished him by Souchet, the popular French humorist, and the finished dramatist used the material given him in the story by the capable and admirable. The result is one of the funniest comedies ever given to the stage. The production of this comedy necessitated a large expense, which very few theatres being conducted at popular prices would care to assume. However, Donald Mack, the stage creator, wishes to show the patrons of the theatre that nothing but dramas and comedies of the highest type will be produced, notwithstanding the expense. The comedy is said to be a continuity of laughter during its three acts. Many screamingly funny complications and situations come out of the "first night out," which an old fellow who has an unblemished record for being a "home stayer," takes in the absence of his wife, who is called to attend a sister of hers who is ill. In the satisfying of his longing to mingle with the throng on "The Great White Way," he goes to Burns, a well known cafe, patronized by actresses. While there he forms the acquaintance of a popular vaudeville star, who gives him the time of his life. The following morning comes the explanation to "wifey,"

Well Known Billerica Man is Dead

John J. Mahoney, aged 39 years, a life long resident of Billerica, died early yesterday morning at his late home in Talbot avenue, North Billerica. ## KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

"If the people with muscular ailments, instead of taking medicine, would devote a little time each day to electrical treatment, there would be less pain in this world and a noticeable decrease in the mortality." So says Dr. Carl Herman, the electrical wizard, who will be the headline feature of the all star bill at this theatre this week. Dr. Herman is not a man who took up the study of the healing properties of electricity for the purpose of earning his livelihood, but has spent the greater part of his life in acquiring the knowledge of electricity which he has. Although he spent several years in the study of medicine his "hobby" was always electricity and his advancement in the study of this element has been rapid. All the instruments used by him in his job, were manufactured under his personal attention and are said to be the most complete apparatus for electrical treatment ever devised. For the purpose of demonstrating fully what might be done with electricity, Dr. Herman will work on subjects taken from the audience. The doctor is also a capable wit, and his sayings are bound to keep his listeners convulsed with laughter. Others on this bill, which embodies comedy, music, dramatic and sensational features, are: Harlan Knight and company, in his one act comedy, "The Chalk Line" in which there are amusing as well as sad moments; John Neff, the eccentric musician and Carrie Star in Mr. Neff's latest farce entitled "The Brainstorm" Musical and The Telephone Girl. Mr. and Mrs. Allison, in their comical skit, "Alimony from Minnesota" which is a deviation from the comedy. "What Happened to Jones" which the two starred in for several seasons; Harry Fantele and Viola Valloria, the twain which never fails to please with songs, dances and stories; Sammet Brothers, clever terpsichorean artists and Roder and Lester, gymnastic marvels. The bill will close with several reels of daylight pictures of the latest subjects produced by the leading film makers of this and foreign countries. Tickets for this week's performances are now on sale and may be ordered in advance by telephone 25.—Adv.

John J. Mahoney was one of the most honorable and straightforward young men ever brought up in the town of Billerica. He lived there practically all his life and was known and admired by all who had occasion to come in contact with him whether it was in a business or a social way. He served four years as a member of the board of selectmen, and he filled the office with honor and credit and to the satisfaction of his constituents. In March, 1910, he retired and it can be said that he had more friends when he left office than when he first became identified with town affairs.

THE LATE JOHN J. MAHONEY

Mr. Mahoney was one of the first members of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence Society of North Billerica, of which he served in every office finishing in the president's chair. The deceased had been ill for the past two weeks, but his death came very unexpectedly and it will be keenly felt by all of his friends as well as by the residents of Billerica.

TOMORROW'S BATTLE

A Heavy Vote is Expected at the State Primaries

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—As candidates for offices all the way from governor to ward and town committee, men twelve less than ten thousand of the six hundred thousand male voters in Massachusetts were more or less on the anxious seat today over the outcome of the primaries that will be held throughout the state tomorrow. Perhaps a hundred of these candidates have strenuous fights on their hands and spent the last day in strengthening their positions in the minds of the voters. This applied more especially to three republican leaders, who are aspirants for the head of the ticket at the November election, Lieut. Governor Louis Frothingham of Boston, Speaker Joseph Walker and Representative Norman H. White, both of Brooklyn. All three have been actively on the stump for nearly six weeks. Three democratic candidates for lieutenant governor, auditor and treasurer respectively, David I. Walsh, Charles Strecker and Augustus L. Thorndike, started on a short tour of the state today but Governor Eugene Foss, who desires renomination, has made no effort to obtain party support, as he is relying on his personal reputation to win the nomination over Thomas I. Hilsen of Springfield.

LABOR DELEGATES

Occupied Pulpit at the Central M. E. Church

The Sunday night service at the Central M. E. church was a little bit out of the ordinary yesterday, the speakers being representative labor men, John J. Mahoney, president of the Trades & Labor council, and William E. Sprague of the Street Railway Men's union.

Mr. Mahoney spoke of the aims of the trades union movement, and said that what it asks is eight hours for work, eight hours for play, eight hours for sleep, and a living wage.

For more than 20 years the labor men have asked for a 44-hour law for women and children in the textile industries, and surely, he said, if an eight-hour day is enough for a man, 34 hours a week is too much for women and children.

Referring to the strikes of the shoe workers, he said that that organization is what is known as insurgent. That is, men who were unable to reach the top of the ladder, went out and started another little union, so that they could be officers. The Boot and Shoe Workers' union has an agreement that there shall be no strikes and no lockouts, but that difficulties shall be settled by a board of arbitration. The actions of the other organizations are making it hard for the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. They are going out on strike for trivial reasons, and the trades union movement is blamed for it. He said, however, that the trades union does not believe in compulsory arbitration; but that other unions, besides the Boot and Shoe Workers, have arbitration agreements.

Referring what the trades unions—especially the International Typographical union—are doing for their members, particularly to the home for aged and invalid printers, which is taking care of 150 invalids, he said that this organization is paying over $11,000 a month in old age pensions, to those who cannot or will not go to the home. Other organizations, having no homes, are paying still larger pensions, besides the death benefits, and one of the main objects of the trades union movement is to keep children out of the mills.

Mr. Sprague said that 26 millions of wage earners are enjoying the benefits secured by the two and one-half millions who are organized. He urged the necessity for the binding together of laborers for mutual protection, and said that the labor movement has also a religious side. It seeks to establish a higher and a fuller life for the toiler, and that is what the church also is seeking to lift humanity. Why a conflict should exist between the labor movement and the church is beyond comprehension. The aspirations of trades unionism are high—it is reaching for the ideal.

STATISTICAL RECORD

Of the Progress of the United States

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Statistical Record of the Progress of the United States, 1800-1911, is the title of a small document just issued by the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor. It pictures in statistical form conditions in the commercial, financial, industrial and transportation systems of the United States at brief intervals since the year 1800, down to, and in many instances including the year 1911. In those cases in which the subjects considered are measured by governmental fiscal year periods, the figures for the fiscal year 1911 are included; in those in which calendar year periods are used, of course, statements can only terminate with the calendar year 1910.

Among the interesting facts shown are that the area of continental United States was 3,629,566 square miles in 1800, advancing to 3,629,566 square miles in 1850; and 3,629,566 square miles in 1850, and 3,629,566 square miles in 1850, since which date no change in area is shown. The population, which was 5 1-2 million in 1800, was 9 3-4 million in 1911. Public debt, which was $3 million dollars in 1800, reached 2575 million dollars less cash in treasury in 1865, the figures of 1911 being 1015 million dollars. The per capita debt, which was $15.63 in 1800, and in 1850 $75.98, is in 1911 $10.83. The interest charge per capita, which amounted to 64c. in 1800, and $4.12 in 1850, was in 1911, 23c., and the total annual interest charge, which was in 1800, 146 million dollars, was in 1911, 21 1-2 million dollars. Money in circulation, stated as 26 1-2 million dollars in 1800, was in 1911, $3,228,627,002, and the per capita circulation, which was in 1800 $1.99, was in 1911, $34.35. Deposits in all banks in the country cannot be shown earlier than in 1875, and the per capita are set down as a little over 3 billion dollars, and in 1910, over 15 billion dollars. ## 13 WERE KILLED

Hayrack Party Was Struck by a Train at Neenah, Wis.

NEENAH, Wis., Sept. 25.—Thirteen persons are dead, three others are dying and five are seriously hurt as the result of a fast train on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad running into a hayrack on which a party of 31 merry-makers were returning from a celebration yesterday.

A big billboard beside the railway tracks obscured the view from the locomotive as well as from the wagon. Dust and fog were contributory causes to the tragedy.

Nine members of the party escaped without a scratch. Nobody on the train suffered except from a severe jar. The collision occurred at 3:40 a. m. on the Commercial street crossing here. Train 121, north bound, whirled through the wagonload of sleeping and happy mortals who were returning from the Peter Hanson farm, where they had gone to attend the celebration of a wedding anniversary.

All but two, who were Chicago men, were residents of Menasha.

The dead:

JOHN DRILL, Chicago.

GUSTAV FLECK, Chicago.

MADELL FINE, Chicago.

JOHN HART, Chicago.

STEVEN LASEK, Chicago.

DOMINICK OMNIECHINSKI.

MABEL RENZ.

JOHN SCHEDICK.

JOSEPH SCHEDICK.

FRANK SIDNYG.

ISABELLE SUCHOWSKI.

The injured:

Philip Mott, Chicago; Benjamin Dumbrowski, Antone Kurmoski, Myron Olson, Anna Sodalski, John Suchodolski, Amanda Syring and Herman Syring.

Six Bodies on Pilot

Mangled bodies covered the right of way as the train, nine coaches in length, was brought to a stop 800 feet from the scene. Several were so badly mutilated that identification was possible only by fragments of clothing.

Six bodies were discovered on the locomotive pilot and two others were hurled through a flagman's shanty with such force as to overturn the structure. One of these was Miss Finn, who was projected through one of the side walls of the house and was breathing when removed.

She died a few hours later. Another of the victims was thrown high over a barn 500 feet from the tracks.

Among the occupants of the hay-rack who escaped were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brizinski and their two-year-old child. They were seated in the front half of the rack, and the mother was holding the child in her lap.

About half way back in the wagon sat Mary Schwartzbauer. The latter was hurled about 50 feet and rendered unconscious. When found by rescuers the Brizinski child was in her arms, having escaped unscathed. The parents of the child were only slightly injured.

Saw Danger Too Late

Peter Hanson, driver and owner of the horse attached to the ill-fated rig, managed to cling to the reins and was the only person aboard who was not temporarily stunned by the collision.

He says he did not observe the on-rushing train until his team had reached the track. He whipped up the horses, but managed to get the wagon only half way across.

The train is said to have been nearly a half hour behind schedule and was running approximately 50 miles an hour.

Practically every person on the wagon was an employee of a wooden ware company, and all were invited to the Hanson farm to attend the wedding of one of their fellow employees. Mr. Hanson had conveyed the merry-makers to his farm in the early evening and was taking them back home.

A coroner's jury was impaneled, but adjournment was taken to give the district attorney and others opportunity to interview witnesses.

ing banks in 1820, the earliest year for which the figures can be shown, was a little less than 9 thousand, and in 1910 over 9 million. Government receipts, which amounted to $2.04 per capita in 1800, were in 1860, $14.65, and in 1911, $7.45, or about one-half what they were in 1860. Exports of domestic merchandise which amounted to 32 million dollars in value in 1800, were over 2 billion dollars in 1911; and imports, which amounted to 31 million dollars in 1800, were 1 1-2 billion in 1911.

Many other subjects of this character stated by the document in question, include details of imports and exports by great groups and grand divisions, and principal ports through which shipped; the production of principal articles, such as wheat, corn, cotton, coal, sugar, copper, etc., from 1800 to 1910; the attendance in public schools, and sums expended for that work; postal receipts and expenditures; and a few pages devoted to monetary and commercial conditions in the principal countries of the world. Copies of the publication in question can be obtained by applying to the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor.

THE LABOR COUNCIL

Discussed the Records of the Candidates

The regular meeting of the Trades & Labor council was held yesterday afternoon in the hall at 32 Middle street. There was a large attendance of delegates and much business was transacted during the course of the meeting.

John J. Mahoney presented a lengthy report submitted by the legislative committee. The report referred principally to labor measures. Each article was taken up separately and discussed by the delegates and at the close the report as given was unanimously adopted. The vote of the Lowell delegation at the state house on the various matters was told in detail, and in reviewing them the members of the council expressed themselves in no uncertain terms towards the legislators who opposed them.

CONDUCTOR HOPE

Had a Narrow Escape From Being Killed

Arthur Hope, a conductor on the local division of the Bay State Street Railway Co., had a narrow escape from being killed last night about 8 o'clock as a result of falling from his car near Johnson's corner in Tyngsboro.

He was collecting fares, when he suddenly lost his balance and was thrown to the ground. Several passengers on the car went to the assistance of Conductor Hope and placed him on the car and he was brought to Lowell. The ambulance which had been summoned was waiting for the car when it reached Merrimack square and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital. It was found that he was suffering from a slight concussion of the brain. Hope recovered his faculties at the hospital and stated that he did not know exactly how he happened to fall, but thought he might have been seized with a dizzy spell.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Lyman Crockett, one of the most popular young pupils of the village, was genuinely surprised at his home in Newfield street, last Friday evening, and presented a signet ring, by about 30 of his young friends. The presentation was made in a very unique manner by his close friend and fellow-schoolmate, "Joe" Armitage. After the presentation, a lunch was served, and a literary entertainment was enjoyed.

By defeating the Riversides of Lowell Saturday afternoon, in an exciting game of baseball, by a score of 19 to 8, the Unions or "Tooney's" Unions became unquestionably the recognized champions of North Chelmsford.

The executive committee of the No. Chelmsford Cricket club met on Friday evening, and among other matters considered, decided to hold a smoke-talk in the school hall on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. McEnaney of Highland Ave. observed the 5th annuversary of their wedding at their residence last Wednesday evening. The event was celebrated by the holding of an informal reception and the serving of a bountiful supper which was attended by a large number of relatives and a few friends, many of whom had come from out of town for the occasion.

HIS HEAD CRUSHED

Man Injured at Middlesex Street Station

Sunday morning, while engaged in uncoupling a baggage car at the Middlesex street depot Frank Douglas, a car inspector, met with a very painful and serious accident by having his head crushed between two cars. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he was treated by the house surgeon. He regained consciousness in about two hours after the treatment, and examination, but could give very little information regarding the circumstances surrounding the unfortunate accident.

It would seem, however, that Douglas was not a regular brakeman, but was what is known as a "car knocker" or inspector. When the train which leaves Boston at 9 a. m. and arrives in Lowell at 10 a. m., pulled into the station, the baggage car was to be detached from the rest of the train and sent to the yard to be put on another train. Douglas stood on the side farthest from the platform and helped the regular brakeman uncouple the car, which was furnished with air brakes. When the engine drew back to take in the slack, the unfortunate man's head was caught between the two cars and terribly crushed. The ambulance was quickly summoned, and took him to the Lowell hospital. Douglas lives at 136 Branch street.

DEFENDS HARVARD

President Taft Resents Charges of Crane

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept. 25.—Speaking yesterday to the students of the university of Kansas President Taft digressed from his topic of the good the Y. M. C. A. has done to resent publicly the allegations as to drunkenness and dissipation in American universities recently made by R. T. Crane of Chicago.

"I do not know," said the president, "whether you have observed the attack made upon young men at Harvard by some gentleman who felt it necessary to send a detective into that community to find out how wicked the boys were."

raises. I know something about those universities. I know its sister university, Yale. The truth is, universities don't differ much. I know what Yale was in my day and I know it might have been better. I contributed something to the detective's knowledge in those days, possibly, but today there is a higher standard of morality. Dissipation and drinking are frowned upon by the public opinion of the college. That is what shows what a college is, the public opinion of the young men and young women who are in it. And I resent scandal making and muckraking which refer to the standard of our universities when they are doing such good work and are putting out men into the community with higher morals every year."

MAN CUT HIS THROAT

Was Despondent Because He Suffered From Asthma

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 25.—Charles Munce, a travelling cigar maker who came here from Boston Thursday night, where he had been receiving treatment in a hospital for asthma, cut his throat in the hallway of his boarding house at 43 First street shortly after four this morning. He died in an ambulance as he was being taken to the Eastern Maine Central hospital.

His windpipe was almost severed by the sharp blade of the small pocket knife which he used. Inability to longer endure the suffering caused by the disease is assigned as the cause. Officers of the local cigarmakers union are endeavoring to locate his relatives. It is thought he originally came from Cincinnati. He had a card in his pocket bearing the name of James Hadigan, 294 Bowdoin street, Boston.

AN EX-U.S. TREASURER

Is Charged With Violating the Postal Laws

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The postal authorities took steps today to lay their hands on a large sum, said to be more than $100,000 in cash, which they believe was kept in reserve by Jared Flagg, Jr., and others who were arrested Saturday charged with violating the postal laws in defrauding their customers through the mails.

Flagg and E. Tennyson Neeley, the former publisher, and others spent Saturday and Sunday night in jail but today the federal officers expected they would produce cash for bail, in spite of the fact that the court will require $55,000 before releasing them.

To prevent the accused stockbrokers from reaching their reserve fund before the federal authorities can get control of it, the postoffice inspectors prepared to have some of Flagg's customers file a petition in bankruptcy against him, in addition to $57,000 in cash which the inspectors declare Flagg and his partners kept in a safe deposit box. It is said that $104,000 had been received from customers since Sept. 1, indicating the magnitude of the business conducted by investors anxious to profit by the concern's offer of 52 per cent.

Flagg maintains that his profits averaged 52 per cent, but declares that every dollar was made through legitimate stock exchange transactions.

The federal officers have collected a number of witnesses, four of whom, they say, have turned over to Flagg's concern as much as $50,000. The government charges that Flagg's scheme was to pay customers this immense dividend for a short time after their investment, taking the money from the principal invested by his small army of customers. Three wagonloads of books and correspondence seized in Saturday's raid on his brokerage concern are being examined for evidence. By far the largest number of customers outside New York city, it is said, live in Bridgeport, Conn., the home of Daniel N. Morgan, Ithaca, N. Y., is said to be a close third, and Franklin, Pa., next.

The detectives say that the weekly luncheons given customers at a famous restaurant near Flagg's office were a strong feature of his campaign. At these functions no expense was spared, although the conversation touched not by the concern's offer of 52 per cent.

ENSIGN BELT KILLED

Commander of Little Gunboat Attacked by Hostile Natives

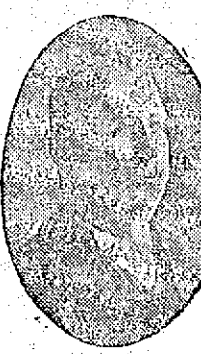

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Ensign Haller Belt, commanding the little gunboat Panganga was killed by hostile natives yesterday at the Yacana islands, which form part of the Philippine archipelago, several sailors of Ensign Belt's party being severely wounded. The details of the affair have not reached the navy department.

Commander Fabs, in charge of the naval station at Olongapo, cabled the brief report from Commander Schoenfeld of the gunboat Quiraoa cruising in southern Philippine waters. The report stated that there had been an action yesterday between the force from the gunboat Panganga and hostile Yacana on the Jandian islands, which lies just south of the town of Zamboanga. J. H. Catherwood, ordinary seaman was severely wounded, John McGuire, hospital apprentice, and J. H. Henrichsen, machinist's mate, were slightly wounded.

Ensign Belt was a native of Texas, temporarily attached to the Panganga. He was graduated from the naval academy in 1908.

Naval officials expressed the belief that the party was on an exploring expedition in the interior of the island of Basilan and suddenly met the Yacana, who are a primitive Malay tribe and fanatical adherents of the Moslem faith. The Yacana are very poor and their principal weapon is the famous "sumpitan," or blowgun, with which they project poisoned darts to great distances.

WORCESTER, Sept. 25.—An indefinite term in the women's prison at Sherborn was the sentence which Judge Utley of the district court passed upon Miss Hope R. Flavel of Hartford, Conn., today. She was indicted last week by the federal court on charges of raising money orders in Springfield and New Haven.

THE AUTO AMBULANCE

To be Discussed at Special Meeting of the Charity Board

In the matter of the purchase of an auto ambulance, Harry W. J. Howe of the board of charities, allows, that there is no time to be lost and at his request a special meeting of the board of charities will be held Wednesday night. In conversation with a reporter for The Sun, Mr. Howe said: "I have requested that a special meeting of the board of charities be called for Wednesday night for the purpose of taking action on the auto ambulance matter."

"I shall urge that one auto be purchased immediately. To be held for out of the regular appropriation of the department. I am fully convinced that Lowell should no longer be without the auto ambulance, and that it is my imperative duty as one of five, entrusted with the care and supervision of the ambulance service, to make that service as up-to-date and efficient as possible. The adding of the injured in the quickest possible time and the possibility of saving life, is of supreme importance. I feel it my duty to force this matter and I shall continue to do so, until an auto ambulance is placed at the service of the people of Lowell."

This is a matter of "life saving" and not a game of "politics." I shall always be accompanied by a doctor in accident calls, and this will necessitate the appointment of an additional ambulance surgeon, making a total of three, who shall be obliged to serve eight consecutive hours each day. The present system is decidedly wrong. One-half the accident calls are made without the doctor being present. The injured person is hurriedly thrown into the wagon like a piece of merchandise. He is left all alone in his agony, while he is being hustled over the pavements at break-neck speed to a hospital from one to four miles distant. What kind of a service is that? Any body of men, in control of a municipal ambulance service, that will sanction, permit, or tolerate such inefficient service is, I believe, criminally negligent to its responsibilities. If we fail to get an auto ambulance for the city service, some one other than myself must assume a future responsibility.

THE MISSION FOR MEN

Was Opened in St. Peter's Church

Last Night

The women's mission which was conducted last week at St. Peter's church by the Augustinian Fathers was very successful and really the attendance was by far larger than had been anticipated by the missionaries. Services were conducted every evening and every morning, and it is estimated that over 3400 women followed the exercises of the retreat which were very fruitful.

Confessions were heard every afternoon and evening and at both masses in the morning communion was given, the attending priests having figured that over 10,000 communions had been distributed during the week. The retreat came to a close yesterday afternoon with a very large attendance at both the main church and St. Paul's chapel. The services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, sermon, renewal of the baptismal vows, benediction of the blessed sacrament and the conferring of the papal blessing.

The men's mission opened last night at 7:30 o'clock with a big attendance in the upper and lower churches. Rev. V. George Mullin presided at the altar in the upper church, and Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A., gave a thoughtful sermon on "Salvation." He prefaced his sermon by a few good suggestions to the men on how to make the mission. He praised the men for their loyalty to the church and its tenets as exemplified in the splendid attendance. The effect of so many men in one whole body was enough to gladden the heart of any priest," said the reverend gentleman.

The choir rendered a special program at benediction which was given by Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A.

Long before the hour for opening the services the main church was filled to overflowing, making it necessary to hold the services in the lower church. The mission is called, which was also rapidly filled. Rev. John F. Burns recited the rosary and Rev. Fr. Ryan, O. S. A., delivered an eloquent sermon on "Salvation." He emphasized that because one was a Catholic was not an assurance that hereafter he or she would enjoy the company of the saints in heaven. One must hold fast to the church's teachings, follow the straight and narrow path of righteousness in all things," said the speaker.

Rev. John T. O'Brien officiated at benediction in the lower church.

The mission for the children of the parish, those who have made their first communion, opened today, and will continue every day at 4:45 o'clock. The children will be given instructions by benediction. Friday afternoon the children will go to confession and receive communion Saturday morning.

The five o'clock mass this morning was very largely attended, many being obliged to stand in the great aisle. Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, O. S. A., gave a brief instruction on the commandments of God, taking the first commandment this morning. He gave lessons from the commandment moving what is meant by it.

The rededication of the Immaculate Conception church will take place on Monday, October 22, by which time it is expected the extensive repairs on the building will be completed.

The church was remodeled from bottom to top in the inside and it was hoped that everything would be in shape some time this month, but there is so much to do that the rededication ceremony has to be postponed. The church when completed will be a prettiest edifice of its sort for

TOBACCO CO.'S DISSOLUTION PLAN

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference looking to the reorganization of the American Tobacco Co. today that a petition would be filed with the United States circuit court on October 2 setting forth the proposed plan of dissolution in consonance with the mandate of the supreme court and that public hearings on the plan would follow. Dates for the public hearings were not announced.

A LOWELL ATHLETE Won the Canadian National Championship at High Jumping

A national track and field championship event has come to Lowell, the first time in the city's history. James Andromedus, the young Greek athlete who did such good work in the different Y. M. C. A. events last spring and winter, went up to Montreal on Saturday as a member of the Boston Athletic Association's track team and won the Canadian national championship at high jumping.

The leap that won for him the premier honors was one of six feet. Opposed to him were the greatest jumpers in Canada and in the United States. The crack jumpers of the Irish American and New York Athletic Clubs of New York were forced to give way to the springy Lowell athlete and be content with minor places in that event. A short while ago the Boston Athletic club, realizing the latent capabilities of "Jimmy," invited him to become a member of their organization and on his doing so he, under the excellent training furnished by that association, has developed into a national champion. Saturday was the first time that he has competed in a national championship jumping event so it is not at all unlikely, indeed very probable, that when the American national championships occur next summer the Lowell boy will be able to duplicate his victory of Saturday and bring an American national championship to Lowell.

HOW NATURE MAKES NEW COMPLEXIONS

(From The Family Physician)
It is well known that the human skin is constantly undergoing a tearing down and building up process. With advancing years of waning vitality this tissue-change lags; the lifeless, soiled surface skin stays on so long that its owner gets a "poor complexion." Common sense tells us this dead skin cannot be cultivated or beautified by any cosmetic, lotion or powder. The natural thing to do is to remove the offensive skin—remove the bad complexion. It has been found that ordinary mercurized wax completely removes the decayed skin, in minute particles, so gently, gradually, as to cause no inconvenience. Mercurized wax, which any drugist can supply, is put on at night like cold cream, only not rubbed in, and washed off in the morning. If you would have a brilliantly beautiful complexion, just use this simple treatment.

THE MISSION FOR MEN

Was Opened in St. Peter's Church

Last Night

The women's mission which was conducted last week at St. Peter's church by the Augustinian Fathers was very successful and really the attendance was by far larger than had been anticipated by the missionaries. Services were conducted every evening and every morning, and it is estimated that over 3400 women followed the exercises of the retreat which were very fruitful.

Confessions were heard every afternoon and evening and at both masses in the morning and in the afternoon, the attending priests having figured that over 10,000 confessions had been distributed during the week. The retreat came to a close yesterday afternoon with a very large attendance in both the main church and St. Paul's chapel. The services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, sermon, renewal of the baptismal vows, benediction of the blessed sacrament and the conferring of the papal blessing.

The men's mission opened last night at 7.30 o'clock with a big attendance in the upper and lower churches. Rev. V. George Miller presided at the altar in the upper church, and Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A., gave a thoughtful sermon on "Salvation." He prefaced his sermon by a few good suggestions to the men on how to make the mission. He praised the men for their loyalty to the church and its tenets as exemplified in the attendance. "The sight of so many men in one whole body was enough to gladden the heart of any priest," said the reverend gentleman.

The choir rendered a special program at benediction which was given by Rev. Fr. Whalen, O. S. A.

Long before 10 o'clock for opening the services the main church was filled with overflowing, making it necessary to open St. Paul's chapel as the basement is called, which was also rapidly filled. Rev. John F. Burns recited the rosary and Rev. Fr. Ryan, O. S. A., delivered an eloquent sermon on "Salvation." He emphasized that because one was a Catholic he or she would enjoy the company of the saints in heaven. "One must hold fast to the church and its teachings, follow the straight and narrow path of righteousness in all things," said the speaker.

Rev. John T. O'Brien officiated at benediction in the lower church. The mission for the children of the parish, those who have made their first communion, opened today, and will continue every day at 4.15 o'clock, when instructions will be given followed by benediction. Friday afternoon the children will go to confession and will receive communion Saturday morning.

The five o'clock mass this morning was very largely attended, many being obliged to stand in the great edifice. Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, O. S. A., was the celebrant and after mass he gave a brief instruction on the commandments of God, taking the first commandments this morning. He drew lessons from the commandment showing what is meant by it.

Immaculate Conception Church

The rededication of the Immaculate Conception church will take place on Sunday, October 22, by which time it is expected the extensive repairs on the building will be completed.

The church was remodeled from bottom to top in the inside and it was hoped that everything would be in shape some time this month, but there was so much to do that the rededication ceremony has to be postponed. The church when completed will be the prettiest edifice of its sort for

TOBACCO CO.'S DISSOLUTION PLAN

NEW YORK, Sep. 25.—Announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference looking to the reorganization of the American Tobacco Co. today that a petition would be filed with the United States circuit court on October 2 setting forth the proposed plan of dissolution in consonance with the mandate of the supreme court and that public hearings on the plan would follow. Dates for the public hearings were not announced.

A LOWELL ATHLETE

Won the Canadian National Championship at High Jumping

A national track and field championship event has come to Lowell, the first time in the city's history. James Andromedus, the young Greek athlete who did such good work in the different Y. M. C. A. events last spring and winter, went up to Montreal on Saturday as a member of the Boston Athletic Association's track team and won the Canadian national championship at high jumping. The leap that won for him the premier honors was one of six feet. Opposed to him were the greatest jumpers in Canada and in the United States. The crack jumpers of the Irish American and New York Athletic Clubs of New York were forced to give way to the springy Lowell athlete and he contented with minor places in that event. A short while ago the Boston Athletic club, realizing the latent capabilities of "Jimmy," invited him to join A. B. Pinnings, an organization and on his doing so, he, under the excellent training furnished by that association, has developed into a national champion. Saturday was the first time that he has competed in a national championship jumping event so it is not at all unlikely, indeed very probable, that when the American

NOW NATURE MAKES NEW COMPLEXIONS

(From The Family Physician)

It is well known that the human skin is constantly undergoing a tearing down and building up process. With advancing years of vitality this tissue-change takes the lifeless, soiled surface skin stays on so long that its owner gets a "pale complexion." Common sense tells us this dead skin cannot be enlivened or beautified by any cosmetic, lotion or powder. The natural thing to do is to remove the offensive skin—remove the bad complexion. It has been found that ordinary mercurized wax completely absorbs the devitalized skin, in minute particles so small, usually, as to cause no inconvenience. Mercurized wax, which any druggist can supply, is put on at night like cold cream, only not rubbed in, and washed off in the morning. If you would have a brilliantly beautiful complexion, just use this simple treatment.
